Com-Ed: Back to Plan 1

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

Commonwealth Edison, which promised to look into alternatives to stringing high-power lines through the center of Lake Villa, appears to be back at Step No. 1.

Ron Crawford, Waukegan district manager for the utility company, said none of the alternatives suggested for running the lines next to the railroad tracks along Rte. 83 to Antioch seem to be feasible.

Crawford was scheduled to give a public presentation of his findings in Lake Villa on Wednesday night.

He said alternate routes around the city, Rte. 83 and burying the power lines were considered as alternatives, but none of these options were workable.

"I've got a few more things I can chase down but I don't have any outstanding alternate routes so far," Crawford said in a telephone interview Tuesday.

"I'm afraid that's not the thing people are going to want to hear."

Com-Ed volunteered to develop options for the path of 138,000-volt power lines proposed to run from Rollins Road in Round Lake Beach north to a site near Loon Lake west of Rte. 83 near Antioch.

The lines would be strung on 75-foot power poles serving a 160,000-kilowatt power substation that the utility company is looking to build near Loon Lake.

The proposed substation would help supply immediate electricity needs for Antioch and later for the growing northwest Lake County.

Mason pleads not guilty; death penalty pending

Burl Mason, who is suspected of strangling to death his Spring Grove neighbor last month, pleaded not guilty in Lake County Circuit Court to five counts of murder.

Mason's trial date was scheduled to be set on Wednesday morning by Circuit Judge John Goshgarian.

The 31-year-old former convict was brought to his arraignment Friday in a wheelchair, though his hands and feet were manacled, newspaper reports said.

Mason is charged with five counts of first-degree murder, including charges of committing murder during sexual assault, robbery and home invasion.

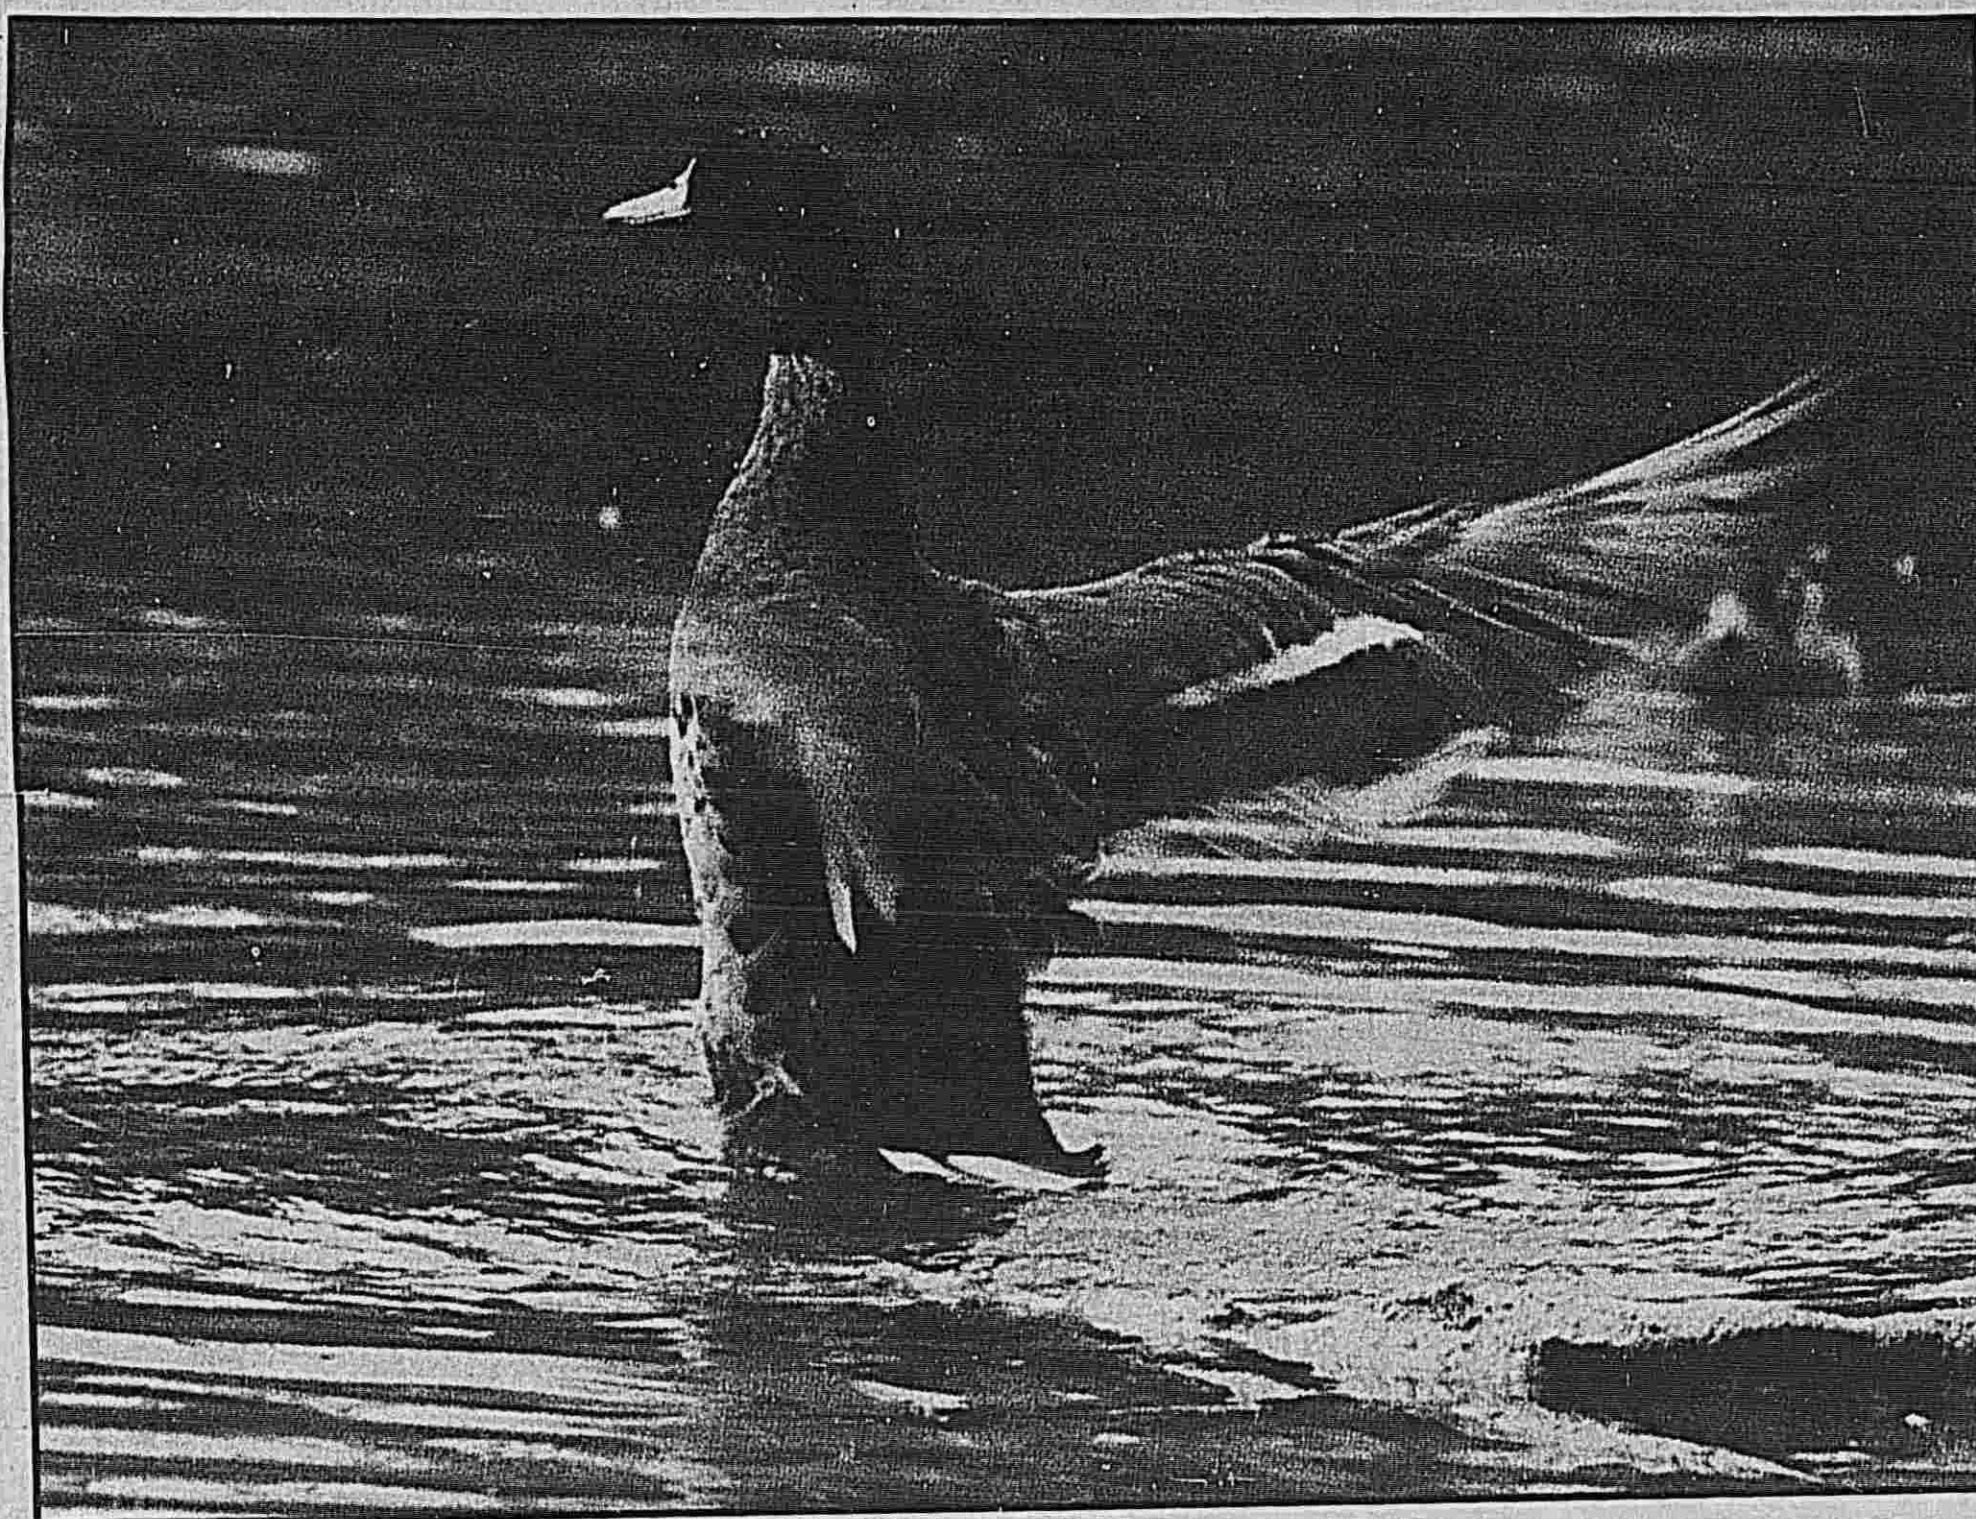

State's Attorney Michael J. Waller said Wednesday that his office is still reviewing whether to seek the death penalty against Mason.

At his arraignment, Mason was advised that he could be sentenced to death by lethal injection or face between 60 years and life in prison without chance for parole, reports said.

Records show that Mason had been out of prison on parole for two weeks when the body of Susan Pauly, 38, was found in her bedroom on Aug. 9.

Pauly's Chevrolet Blazer was missing from the home and witnesses told police Mason was last seen driving from the area in it.

Ten days later, the suspect was seized in a hospital in Arizona, apparently having suffered a heart attack, police said.

Dist. 56 accepts bids for board slot

GURNEE—Gurnee Dist. 56 Board of Education has announced how it will replace Mike Anderson. Anderson, former board president, has resigned his position to accept a job of director of personnel-public relations at Freeport Dist. 145. The board will accept letters of intent from interested individuals to request a position on the board. The deadline for the letters is the end of the working day on Wednesday, Sept. 18. The board plans to schedule interviews with all interested candidates on Monday, Sept. 23 beginning at 6:30 p.m. The winning candidate will be announced at the Sept. 24 board meeting. Anderson's term expires in November, 1993. Letters of intent should be mailed to board secretary Marcia Bleck, at 900 Kilbourne Rd., Gurnee, 60031. For more information, call the district office at (708) 336-0800.

Gurnee cops, FBI probe theft at bank

GURNEE—Gurnee Police and FBI personnel are investigating a bank robbery Tuesday at Harris Bank. Law enforcement officials are looking for a male 5-3 to 5-5, wearing a jeans jacket and sunglasses and possibly a baseball hat or blue jeans.

Park petition sides state their cases

WAUKEGAN—Which code should be used as the governing legal document was at issue as objectors and proponents of the dissolution question for the Gurnee Park Dist. presented their case before the Lake County Board of Elections. No decision was rendered at the first hearing Tuesday on the validity of the petition for the Nov. 5 ballot. The hearing at the Lake County Building was continued until Wednesday.

Buehler appointed to commission

ROUND LAKE—Mayor James Lumber appointed Thomas Buehler to the Police and Fire Commission to fill the unexpired term of Ken Gustafson. The committee consists of three residents responsible for hiring, firing and addressing grievances concerning the police and fire departments.

Mason pleads not guilty to murder in Spring Grove

WAUKEGAN — Burl Mason, the 31-year-old former convict suspected of strangling to death his Spring Grove neighbor Aug. 8, pleaded not guilty in Lake County Circuit Court. Reports said Mason was brought to his arraignment in a wheelchair, though his hands and feet were manacled. Meanwhile, State's Attorney Michael J. Waller said Wednesday that his office is still reviewing whether to seek the death penalty in the case. Mason could face the death penalty or between 60 years and life in prison without parole if he is convicted of the five counts of murder that are charged against him. Mason is suspected of raping and strangling to death Susan Pauly, 38, then stealing her Chevrolet Blazer and fleeing to Arizona. He was seized in a Phoenix, Ariz., hospital on Aug. 19, apparently after having suffered a heart attack.

No alternative yet to power line route through village

LAKE VILLA — Commonwealth Edison, which promised to look into alternatives to stringing high-power lines through the center of the village, appears to be back at its original plan. "I've got a few more things I can chase down but I don't have any outstanding alternate routes so far," said Ron Crawford, Com-Ed's Waukegan district manager. "I'm afraid that's not the thing people are going to want to hear." Lake Villa residents have publicly expressed their concern over having 138,000-volt power lines strung through the village on 75-foot towers since it was first proposed. The lines would run to Loon Lake near Antioch to supply additional power to the growing area.

Libertyville High School encourages volunteerism

LIBERTYVILLE—Libertyville High School has begun a new program this school year which recognizes students who volunteer their time to help others either in or out of the school environment.

Under the "Service to Humanity Program," students can earn one service credit for each 36 hours of volunteer work they perform. Only one credit can be earned per semester. The service credit is entered on their high school transcript but does not count as credit toward meeting graduation requirements.

Nominating petition challenged in CLC race

GRAYSLAKE—The College of Lake County board nominating petition filed by Jerry Havemann of Libertyville has been challenged.

A petition filed Sept. 3, alleges that nine of the 53 signatures on Havemann's petition are from non-registered voters, making them illegal.

An electoral board meeting will be scheduled Sept. 5, to investigate the charges.

Development plan wins green light from trustees

GRAYSLAKE—While Third Lake trustees and residents voiced concerns, Grayslake Village Board members gave the preliminary green light for the Washington Village plan. Trustees, by a 4-1 vote, approved the general development plans and issuing a special use permit for the 26-acre parcel off Washington St. Trustees Tim Rafferty, Robert Russell, Randy Bussone and Mayor Marv Smith voted yes. Trustee Melink Willen voted no. Trustees Ken Hubbard and Pat Carey were not at Tuesday's meeting, but Carey gave Willen a statement in which she said she would have voted no.

Former Antioch resident wins society's coveted CPA award

by DEBRA A. SCHWARTZ
Lakeland Newspapers

She is much like a poem by John Masfield or Henry David Thoreau with her rhythmic way of speaking and words of travel, a hobby which teaches the teacher.

She is living life on the edge of her dreams, hanging on only with great effort. Life has taught the 50-year-old that time heals all things and that she's "basically a very optimistic person," she said. Sharon Grove's career has taught her commitment and challenges the Libertyville resident, formerly of Antioch, to know fulfillment and satisfaction.

"My philosophy is to live each day the best that I can," she said. "I'm never done learning."

Grove's days are threaded with perpetual change, the unknown passing through the strange, borrowing from Masfield. She has always stepped to the music which she hears, however measured or far away, keeping pace with the wild call, a clear call that cannot be denied.

The first person on her dad's side to go to college, Grove, who fashioned her life and career choice after a favorite aunt on her mother's side, now holds a doctorate in educational administration from Illinois State University in Normal, Illinois.

An accounting teacher at the College of Lake County, Grove was recently selected from 15 contenders to win the coveted Outstanding Educator Award for 1991 from the Illinois Certified Public Accountant Society. Names were submitted by department chairs throughout the state.

Grove lives to travel, not for awards, however. A full tank of gas would take her to "see as much of the country as I can," she said. Just back from a camping trip in Alaska where she was backpacking and mountain climbing with a gang of friends, Grove said she'd head "to the Pacific Northwest and drive back to Alaska through Canada. It was just beautiful. It was great to get out in nature again. I probably haven't camped or backpacked for about 10 years because of different circumstances in my life. My children are grown, I no longer had the equipment and I didn't have anybody to do it with," said the divorcee. Times, however, have changed.

The woman who describes herself as "sober" longs, at times, to change her ways. "I have a mom who is a very zany person and I wish sometimes that I could behave more like her," Grove said.

A fan of murder mysteries, gothic romances and fictionalized biographies about the life and times of legends such as Queen Elizabeth and Henry the Eighth, Grove said she has often wondered if she ever lived during that time. The Grayslake-based College of Lake County accounting teacher, however, outruled the possibility "when I was in London and put my head on the block where Anne Bolin was beheaded. I didn't get any vibes," she joked.

In all seriousness, though, Grove is drawn to the northwest coast. "Once when I was out in the state of Washington I just had this sense of really being home; that I belonged there," she said. "When I left that area, my heart hurt. I have no idea why I was so attached. Just the pure beauty of it. I like the sounds of the ocean."

And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying, and the flung spray and the blown spume, and the sea-gulls crying. I must go down to the sea again to the vagrant gypsy life, to the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife; and all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover, and a quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

Her greatest success, she said, is seeing her students have successful careers and pass their CPA exam. A highlight of Grove's investment in teaching came in 1985 when a protege won the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants gold medal for passing the CPA exam with the highest score. "About 3,000 people sit for that in Illinois each time it's given and perhaps a third of those people pass," Grove said.

The award bestowed upon Grove is in recognition of her contribution to education, interaction with students, success of the program at College of Lake County and her contribution to the accounting profession itself.

"It's a very prestigious award. Normally we don't get a lot of applications. The calibre of the nominees is very high," said Karen Rosen, manager of member service and planning for the Illinois Certified Public Accountants Society. Grove is only the second person from a community college to receive the society's honor.

Until two years ago, community college instructors were not eligible for the award. The rules were changed, however, because "community colleges play such a major role in accounting education. There are more and more non-traditional students becoming CPAs, and community colleges are attracting high quality students who will make excellent CPAs," Rosen said.

While studying for her master's degree in business during the early '60s, Grove taught at Wauconda High School. She later taught at Illinois State University while earning her doctorate, but was drawn to teaching at a community college.

"I like this level because I feel that teaching is still a major emphasis at this level. Our students really have sincere goals and objectives. They have a real reason for being here. Over the years, I've gotten a lot of satisfaction about people making career moves for themselves or women coming from the home and going back into the workplace. I see them feel better about themselves as they go through this education process," she said.

New Emmons School budget covers $17,000 state aid cut

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

The Emmons School Board is proposing a $966,000 budget for the year, down from last year and trimmed even further when the district learned of a $17,000 state aid cut.

Supt. Matt Tabar said the district originally worked out a budget that included $86,000 in state aid.

When that number was reduced over the summer to $69,000, the district had to make some quick cuts to compensate, Tabar said.

"We had to change our budget quite extensively," he said. "We had to cut a lot of things that we hoped would have enhanced our program."

Slashed from the budget were new, more contemporary achievement tests, new desks and water conservation devices for the school's restrooms.

The district also cut back on contingency plans for new staff members in case enrollment in the district grows during the year.

Tabar said that if such growth does occur, the district is prepared to dip into reserve funds as a last resort.

Another area that may tap into the reserve funds is the school's new septic system. When word of the state aid decrease hit home, Emmons officials downgraded their estimate for the septic system before putting it out for bid.

"If the bids come out higher," Tabar said, "we might have to go into

'We had to cut a lot of things that we hoped would have enhanced our program' — Supt. Matt Tabar our reserves for that."

Too many dips into the reserve could mean a deficit next year for Emmons, the superintendent said.

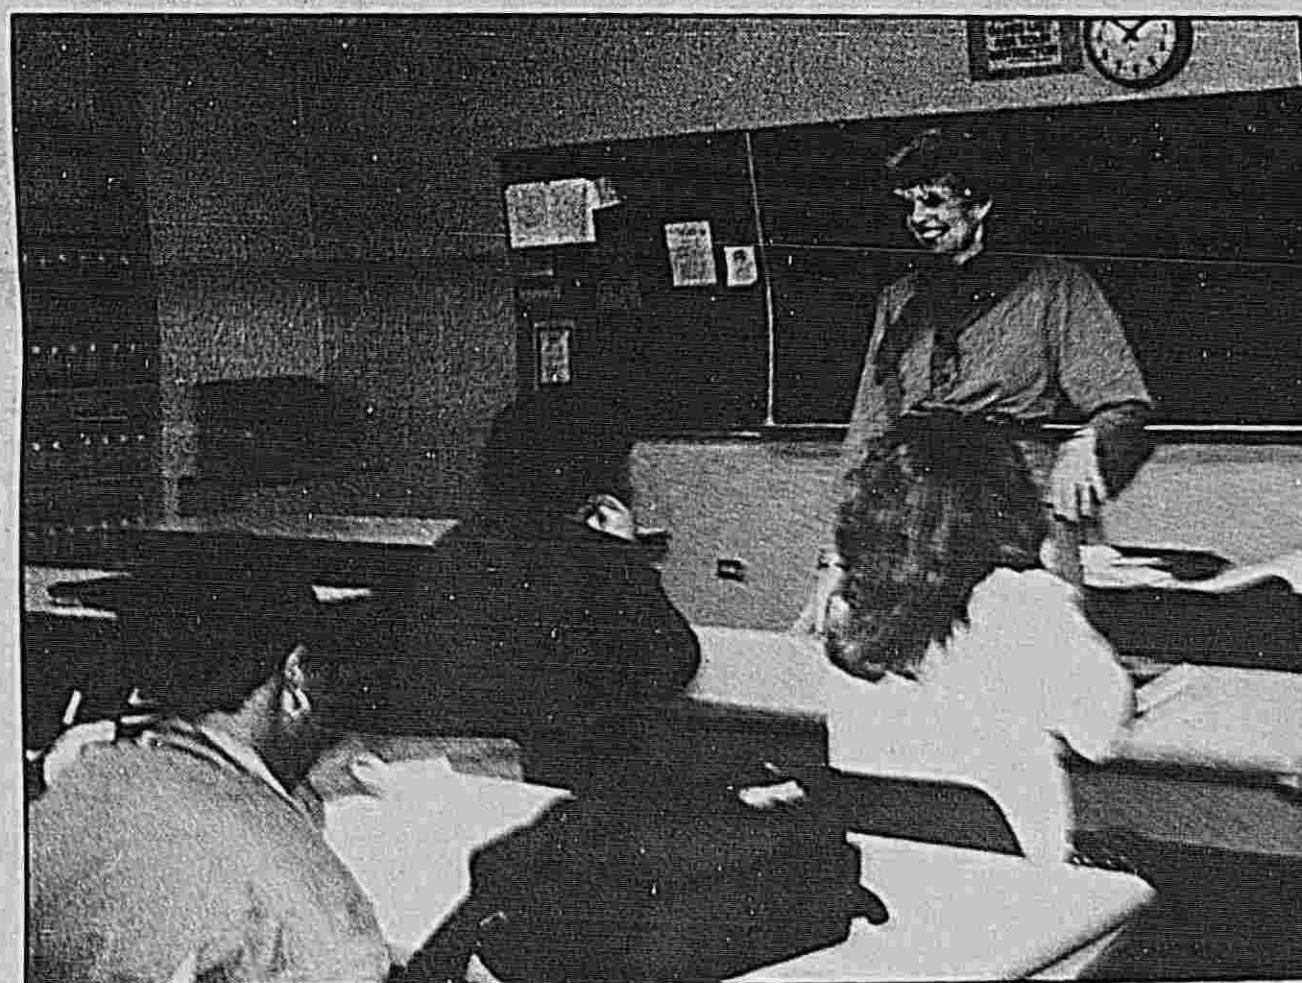

However, this year's budget is lower than last year's because of a Life/Safety Fund expenditure, which was estimated at $150,000 in 1990-1991.

Although the Life/Safety Fund expenditure will be present in the budget for the next three years during payoff, its impact is significantly less than it was in last year's $998,000 budget.

Among the larger expenditures for this year are the septic system and general upgrades covered in the building fund.

Tabar said the district also is in tentative agreement with teachers over this year's salary increase, but he would not release those figures until it became official.

The budget is available for public inspection at the school office, 24226 W. Beach Grove Rd., Antioch, during regular business hours.

Hidden Creek plan near Red Wing Marsh OK'd

The Village Board has approved the final plan for Hidden Creek, the development which will overlook Red Wing Marsh near Rte. 173 and Deep Lake Rd.

The plan calls for 40 homes on lots between 40,000 square feet and three acres. The development is located on 74 acres.

In obtaining approval for Hidden Creek, developer Kathcon Corp. of Chicago was required to submit its plan to the Department of Conservation.

Kathcon will be required by the state to prepare a wetlands management plan for the development.

The site reportedly was one of the first areas in Illinois subject to a review by the Endangered Species Protection Program.

The approved plans for Hidden Creek include 250-foot buffer zones between the closest homesites and the marsh.

Another 50 to 60 feet of buffer also has been approved for use as septic fields or backyards, but no structures will be built in either buffer area.

Additionally, no piers or watercraft will be allowed in the Red Wing Marsh area.

Kathcon has said it will prepare a map outlining the buffer zones.

The company also has agreed to replace a portion of the buffer — previously plowed — with native vegetation.

CLC honors Lumber for service as board trustee

by ELLEN RUTLIN
Lakeland Newspapers

After 20 years of participation on the College of Lake County's board of trustees, James Lumber, mayor of Round

James Lumber

Lake, is looking forward to entering his third decade.

"It's been an exciting place to be," he said. "I like being around an academic environment. It keeps me alert and active."

A founding member and the first chairman of the board, Lumber was honored for his more than 20 years of service as a trustee by the Illinois Community College Trustees Association

'It's always been a good board, able to absorb and reshape yet work toward a common goal'—James Lumber

at its state conference in Chicago.

Lumber, who was first elected to the CLC board in 1967 as a charter member and chairman.

The general election that year saw 41 candidates seeking seven positions.

"The college was pretty eagerly received," he recalled. "A lot of people were interested in taking part."

His years as a trustee have included six as chairman of the board.

"I have worked with 23 or 24 different board members and have enjoyed every single person," Lumber said. "CLC has a harmonious board that always worked as a group. I'm proud to be a part of it."

The first three years saw a lot of development for the board as well as the college.

"There was a lot of blending that needed to go on," he said, "but everyone had a common goal."

Lumber categorized the colleges growth to date by its presidents. The period lead by Richard Erzen ushered in the college's initial building followed by the philosophical era under John Hunter which engulfed ideas and movements of the 70s. Today, under Dan Lavista, the college is building again to facilitate the increasing numbers of its student body.

"Working with students boards and the problems of the students of the 70s were the most exciting times for me," Lumber said. "Today's issues are mostly dollar driven. It's time again that we're bursting at the seams. We're going to need some kind of building presence in the southern part of the county. The tangle comes in when we have to remember the problems at home (Grayslake facility)."

Lumber, a practicing attorney since 1964 in Antioch, has been the mayor of Round Lake since April 1989.

He is up for re-election to the college board this fall with two other incumbents.

Working to get ahead or further behind?

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Lizard's Opinion

As a school board member, I am now exposed to viewing and reviewing many types of education journals, books, booklets, etc. I definitely make it a practice to read these materials in order to enhance and improve upon my decision-making abilities as a board member. As I read all of the materials made available to me, I have noticed there seems to be many schools of thought on the many different education issues facing our educators. As I continue to read, I attempt to sort out the philosophies, theories, or practices that appear to be logical, worthwhile and possibly workable in meeting the needs of our particular district.

I read an article entitled "Who Shall Slay the Messenger?" It pointed out that in medieval times, kings often slew messengers that delivered bad news that was not in line with the king's outlook. It went on with the example that today we tend to slay the student messengers for bringing educators bad news in the form of poor test scores, discipline problems and other evidence that our school systems are not always successful. Since we are obviously more enlightened than the kings of old, we would be better off working to resolve many of the environmental, social and health problems that contribute to the bad messages in today's educational systems.

It referred to what I consider the Good Old Days when children were the responsibility of their parents. It stressed that in today's changing society, children often become the responsibility of many—such as schools-through latch-key programs, drug education, sex education, etc., day care centers, and private babysitters. This article definitely brought to mind some personal observations from The Lizard: excluding the families that are forced into a situation of both parents working, or single-parent homes through illness, death, or whatever, I contemplated how many people may choose to have both parents working simply to provide extra material things that most of us could most likely live without. I seem to see a circle of events—people working to purchase the extras (how those advertisers convince us of the things we should want); schools forced to pick up the slack for the guidance and child care no longer provided through the home; property taxes, school taxes and income taxes must be raised in order to provide these services. Therefore, the family experiences more added demands on that almighty dollar; they are out there earning only to realize the so-called extras are not obtained as quickly as expected. Naturally, the raise in taxes, etc., does not only affect the parents who have made a conscious decision to dually work for those extras. It also affects the retired people on fixed incomes and the parents who made a commitment to operate a home on a single salary.

In my opinion, this neverending cycle of creating added expenses in order for individuals to obtain the it's worth, I, too, get caught up in wanting, wanting, wanting!

Delicious Food

Once again, the Grass Lake School P.T.O. is sponsoring the "Taste of Market Day" under the cause I didn't look like a grandmother. I am sure she gave it to me in order to pre-expose or possibly warn me of some of the pitfalls of "grannyhood"—such as bragging about little "grandbaby whoever" to the extreme of boring my friends and acquaintances. Looks like I am going to have to read and re-read the book in order to learn by the mistakes and successes of others. On the other hand, knowing me I will probably goof up anyway—after all, "Experience is the mother of all teaching."

There was one statement in the book that truly made me think. One which I decided to strongly consider as a safe rule of thumb—"Grandmotherhood does not give us the right to speak without thinking—only the right to think without speaking." I might add, depending on the circumstance!

Election Time

Tuesday, Nov. 5, is election day. Area residents will be asked to cast their ballots for a variety of issues. In the Antioch area, people will be voting for the school board members and the Antioch High School building referendum. No matter who or what you vote for, remember your vote is your involvement in what you do or do not want for your community. Your vote is important, so please make it a point to get to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 5, and vote for the candidates and issues of your choice.

Birthday Greetings

I would like to extend

Camp Crayon

The 1991-92 Camp Crayon program begins on Monday, Sept. 16 for the Monday, Wednesday classes and Tuesday, Sept. 17 for the Tuesday, Thursday classes. The morning sessions are from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and the afternoon sessions are from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Once again, the camp director, Marie Brausman, has an exciting year planned for the children. Camp Crayon is sponsored by the Antioch Park and Recreation Dept.

Hometown Goodies

often times unattainable can possibly be broken when more people make a better decision on life's priorities. Learn to play the waiting game better. A little patience goes a long way. Who says we have to have everything yesterday, or even today—what about tomorrow? Every young couple contemplating parenthood should first decide who will be raising their children—them or society in general. If two salaries are needed in a two-parent home, maybe a better way to go would be to work out a schedule where one parent is always on hand for the children. Naturally, all of this is only my unlearned opinion. I am merely suggesting that before people bring a child into the world, they should first take a long, hard look at what that truly means. Look at the rewards and responsibility of parenthood versus the need to acquire the material things that surround us in today's world. Realize the importance of the one over the other and take it from there. Once again food for thought. I call it stopping to smell the roses in our lives! Incidentally, for what

Words of Wisdom

Shortly after my daughter, Barbara, announced my January entry into grannyhood, she presented me with a little paperback book entitled, "Funny, You Don't Look Like a Grandmother." I read a few pages each night and contemplated over the title. A glance into any mirror told me that the fact was "I did/do look like a grandmother" and will soon be presented the opportunity to be proud of it.

As I read the cute little stories and discovered the words of wisdom hidden between the lines, I eventually realized Barb didn't present me with the book be-

Onlookers applaud Labor Day accident rescue

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

A crowd of about 70 people applauded rescue workers who spent close to an hour on Labor Day dismantling a wrecked car and removing five victims from it.

"It was nice," said Lt. Scott Bartlett, a Lake Villa firefighter. "The people got to see what we did and it was nice to be appreciated for what we spent our time on."

A Lindenhurst man and four Antioch men were injured in the crash, which occurred on Rte. 59 south of Bald Eagle Rd., the Lake County Sheriff's Office reported.

According to the sheriff, Kelli Anderson, 19, of Lindenhurst was driving south on 59 at about 6:45 p.m. when another car pulled out from Bald Eagle in front of him.

Anderson swerved to avoid the car and apparently lost control. The car ran off the road and struck a tree, then ran into a telephone pole, the sheriff said.

Lake Villa firefighters spent close to an hour removing the roof, both doors and a seat from the car to extricate the victims.

Bartlett said the car was wrapped around the utility pole and "we couldn't get to them real well. It took a while. But everything came out pretty well."

'It was real nice' — Lt. Scott Bartlett, a Lake Villa firefighter

Anderson, along with passenger Jerry Herron, 21, of Antioch, was flown by helicopter ambulance to Milwaukee Medical Complex. Both men were listed Wednesday in satisfactory condition.

Passengers Scott Miller, 20, and Steven Robare, 18, both of Antioch, were taken by ambulance to St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan. Miller was listed in good condition. Robare was treated and released.

A fourth passenger, Alvie Stout, 20, of Antioch, was taken to Condell Medical Center in Libertyville, where he was listed in fair condition.

Sheriff's officials said the accident is still under investigation. The driver of the car that pulled out was identified as Timothy Mott, 16, of Spring Grove.

While rescue workers extricated the five victims, a crowd of about 70 onlookers gathered. When the last victim had been removed, the crowd applauded.

"It was nice that they appreciated what we did," Bartlett said.

Com-Ed

Looking at options

Com-Ed agreed to look at an alternate route after several residents from Loon Lake and Lake Villa expressed concerns about safety and aesthetics at a public hearing in Antioch.

The public hearing was held to consider annexing into Antioch the two acres on which the power substation would be built.

Upon hearing the concerns of residents, and the plea of one Lake Villa man to hold off on any decisions until his village board could look further into the matter, the Antioch Village Board continued the public hearing to Sept. 16.

Crawford met with Lake Villa two nights later and promised to look into alternatives to running the power lines through the center of the Village along the railroad tracks.

He looked, but the answers didn't readily appear.

Options not feasible

The idea of using the Forest Preserves around Lake Villa wouldn't be feasible, Crawford said. "I don't think they have a usable corridor," he said.

Even if they did, Crawford said, he doubts Forest Preserve officials would turn it over to have power lines run through.

The utility company manager said there are no other railroad routes in the area to run the lines along and it would not be wise to put the towers along Rte. 83.

Rte. 83 is not included in any five-year plan, so the threat of the road expanding after Com-Ed were to locate new lines there is too much of a problem, he said.

Going underground, another suggestion made at the public hearings, won't work because it would be "too cumbersome and expensive," Crawford said.

In order to go underground, the power company would have to install oil pumping stations to cool the high-power lines. Land would have to be purchased and annexed in order to build these pumping stations.

And it could not be done only for Lake Villa, he added. Loon Lake and West Miltmore residents have expressed a desire at seeing the power lines go underground as well.

Relocation offer

What Crawford was prepared to offer Lake Villa residents on Wednesday, he said, was an option that would relocate some of the existing wooden power poles in the community.

The poles around the area of Grand Ave. and the railroad tracks possibly could be moved, he said. It depended on the feeling of residents and the Village Board on Wednesday.

In the meantime, the project that was originally hoped to begin operation by June 1992 will be delayed, Crawford said.

"I think we realize we can't meet that date," he said. "When we will be in service, I don't know."

He said the concerns expressed by Lake Villa residents is to be expected.

"We have to expect that there is going to be some public interest whenever we put up new transmission lines," Crawford said.

He said his job is to provide people with the facts and continue to meet with them and their community representatives.

"I don't know if we have changed anyone's mind," Crawford said. "I hope we changed a few. I'll find out tomorrow."

Antioch Vikings ready for season

Just as the Chicago Bears prepared for their upcoming season, so have the Antioch Vikings.

The Vikings organization, composed of boys from fifth grade through eighth, are grouped according to grade, weight and height, and make up the featherweight, lightweight and heavyweight teams. Since Aug. 3 they have been practicing four days a week, two hours a day. You must be willing to endure some sore muscles and some pretty grueling practices.

Most kids feel that equipment handout day makes those previous workouts worth it all. They meet at Antioch Community High School and hope that their favorite number is available. After selecting their jersey, they are fitted with a helmet and have their name and number put on it while the coaches fit them for their equipment. The excitement that shows on the faces of the new players and even on some of the returning boys is something to see. The featherweights find out who their coaches are and are assigned their teams—Raiders, Seahawks or Bears. The Vikings are now ready for contact!

Their next weeks will be a constant learning experience while they build up the endurance and discipline needed for being out on the field. With the help and guidance of the Antioch Vikings coaching staff, they can't help but be a fine crop of future Antioch Sequoits and future Hall-of-Famers!

Watch this space weekly for scores and highlights from all the Vikings' games.

Ho hum suburb

Editor:

I have watched helplessly as a grove of 200-year-old oak trees was bulldozed and burned in the middle of a drought to make way for an industrial park, watched as a portion of Bangs Lake was filled in to become a parking lot, and observed several other stands of oak trees torn out by their roots to make way for apartment buildings and storage centers.

Our town is on the verge of becoming another ho hum Chicago suburb as the pastoral, verdant Wauconda countryside is being destroyed by rampant high density development. I refer specifically to the proposed Roney Farm development which blatantly conflicts with the comprehensive plan, a development that will affect our roads, schools, property taxes and quality of life.

Development does not pay for itself.

I urge all voters and taxpayers of Wauconda and surrounding area to let their elected officials know that we are opposed to high density. We no longer can afford to sit back and watch helplessly as our unique and beautiful county is bulldozed over in the name of profit.

Small town values

Editor:

It can be truly amazing how some towns pull together in times of trouble. Long Lake is such a town. On Aug. 25 our three-year-old daughter was missing for over an hour. This is every parent's nightmare come true, especially when you live on the water. Happily, she was found blissfully napping somehow in our garage. We checked there and everywhere more times than we care to remember but we didn't see her and she never heard us calling.

What we can never forget are all the neighbors who helped in the search. Some we didn't even know. Our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all of you, the children on their bikes, the teenagers in their cars and the adults on foot who helped us. Special thanks to Kelly and Ray Robbins, Cindy Eckstein, The Lake County Sheriff's Police, the Fox Lake Rescue Squad and the unknown blonde woman in the aqua sun dress who actually found her. Thank you all so very much for all you did.

Convoluted idea

Editor:

We must praise the League of Women Voters of Libertyville/Mundelein for their accurate analysis of the Township's Open Space law. Funds are best used for the "acquisition, preservation, restoration and maintenance" of open land. I've lived here for 30 years and I remember the vote in 1985. It wasn't that long ago. When John Helander talks about "projects" he implies growth and development. But, what do you expect? Most elected officials, the last time around, were pro growth. Swank was in the "growth" business! How else could we receive the convoluted idea that a developed soccer field is consistent with the original Open Space law.

Kids and parents use a sports facility for a few years and never see it again. The next group of kids and parents takes over, and so on. Our Open Space law was meant for all of the people, all of the time. "Acquisition, preservation, restoration and maintenance" of natural land was and is the intent. Let's keep it that way!

If you think a half million dollar soccer field is "open space," vote for these pro growth people next time. All of us pay for growth with our taxes. Real open space does not cost as much as new schools, services, roads, etc. Check it out on your tax bill. I'm not kidding. Otherwise, pick out the candidates who remember the spirit of the Open Space law. Even your children will appreciate it more than another soccer field.

Cooperation lauded

Editor:

A big thanks to CLEAR, the Mundelein Fire Dept., Condell Medical Center, and the Illinois EPA, for their cooperation in the household hazardous waste drop off. On Sept. 7, residents of Avon, Fremont, Libertyville and Warren townships will be able to rid themselves of all the household wastes they have accumulated over the years in their garages, basements and attics.

It is a pilot program, and the first time Lake County has participated. I would like to see the State of Illinois, as well as other states in the country, promote more frequent collections, and in the more populous counties of each state mandate household hazardous waste collection.

One article states an estimated 4.7 percent of the municipal waste stream is hazardous household waste, a small percentage, but it creates the most potential for future problems relative to leachate threatening water supplies. By being responsible citizens and gathering up the chemicals, paints, solvents, fertilizers, pesticides, and any other hazardous goodies we have lying around our homes, we can help protect our environment to some degree. I hope the residents of the townships involved will make this drop off a huge success.

Passage possible

With adroit planning, commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. have a fighting chance of winning public approval for the $45 million bond issue referendum they approved for the Nov. 5 election. The question breaks down with $35 million earmarked for continued land acquisition and $10 million to acquire and develop recreational and educational facilities.

One early response to the proposal was that acquisition of lands in the Waukegan and North Chicago area plus a hefty portion of Ft. Sheridan will be the key to gaining passage. That's true to a point. The real key will be lining up as many parcels as possible where individual constituency groups have a vested interest.

That will mean redesignation for purchase of some of the parcels the commissioners have recently dedesignated in their hell-bent drive to dismantle the land acquisition plans of the former preserve board. If you can figure out this "now you see it, now you don't" scenario, you understand Lake County politics.

The facts are that there are enough strong feelings about what lands should be added to the public domain via the forest preserve route, that coupled with the substantial and vocal numbers of open space and environmentalists, a strong coalition of support for the bond issue can be built, certainly strong enough to withstand the assaults of militant anti-taxation groups.

The question is whether President Andrea Moore and other commissioners understand the dynamics of a strategy for success. Actual cost to taxpayers for the bond issue will be small. We trust the commissioners will be producing hard numbers on the tax impact soon.

Our feelings all along have been that there still is substantial room for growth of the county forest preserve system. The current leadership has chosen to abandon the sometimes harsh procedures of the former board where condemnation more often than not was employed. The new leadership could accomplish almost the same aims as far as citizens are concerned.

We think there is support for enacting the small tax bite that will permit the district to move forward. It will be necessary, though, for the commissioners to produce a viable "shopping list" of worthwhile properties, including some parcels that were chopped off in the dedesignation binge. That's only smart politics, isn't it?

Viewpoint

Would-be juror learns waiting is important

by BILL SCHROEDER

Many are called, but few serve.

In a nutshell, that describes my experiences after a summons from the Lake County Jury Commission to serve as a juror. I was called, but I didn't serve. Mainly I waited a lot during my week on call.

In Lake County, jurors are selected from a list of licensed drivers at least 18 years of age and registered voters. Every week a new pool of about 100 prospective jurors is chosen at random.

"No exceptions," explained Chief Judge Charles Scott. You can defer your call, but you can't wiggle out. "That's our system. It works out pretty well," added Judge Scott. Doctors, lawyers, yes, even judges; business types, homemakers, students, retirees, old, young—a real cross section of society.

You report Monday morning at 8 o'clock and you're assigned a number and a badge. Then you get a magazine and start the waiting process. The first wave of monotony was broken by the showing of a film on the role of the juror in the American justice system. Later, a kindly deputy sheriff addressed the assemble "pool" on matters of conduct and court security.

We were told there are 46 deputies assigned to the courts system, more than enough to handle any emergency or "need" that might arise. The deputy didn't describe what an emergency might be. I assume the "need" was probably of a personal nature.

The prospective jurors were told that picking a jury is a pretty chancy thing, depending on what goes on in the courtrooms elsewhere in the tall building in downtown Waukegan.

After everyone had consumed their second cup of coffee or another can of pop-

--and had settled down to their third magazine---Associate Judge Peter Trobe appeared to welcome us, describe a bit of history about the jury system, and stress that "hardly anybody gets out of a jury summons in Lake County."

Describing our presence as being available on a need basis---I couldn't help but reflect on the similarity to Army basic training during the Korean War---Judge Trobe advised members of the new pool to "have a good time and enjoy yourselves."

The Lake County system provides for as much convenience as possible for citizens on jury call, keeping in mind that the intrusion on daily lives and work schedules is a necessary part of making the American courts system work. We were excused as soon as it became apparent that no juries were being formed for the day. After the first day, your "jury week" is governed by information provided by calling the Jury Information Line.

I got a pass on Tuesday and then endured another waiting session on Wednesday. Thursday the telephone check provided news of my release and a recorded message of thanks. I'm not sure if any juries ever were drawn from my pool group. The pre-Labor Day holiday had something to do with the lack of activity, I'm sure. Lawyers like the long weekends as much as anyone.

Looking back, my week in the jury pool was mildly educational and the change of pace in daily routine was kind of neat. In a county of half a million, chances are I won't ever be called again for jury duty. Now all I have to do is wait for my pay. Lake County pays $12.50 a day whether you sit in the waiting room or on a jury plus 15 cents per mile travel.

Forty years ago I served my country. Now I served by county. I pay real estate taxes and I pay income taxes. Hey, there are sacrifices in being an American.

NAME CHANGE

Coroner Barbara Richardson has gone mod. She now has two last names; one professional the voters will recognize, the other for home.

She is Barbara Richardson-Cannon following her marriage to Don Cannon. Childhood friends, Cannon is the former owner of Amoco stations in Grayslake and at Rte. 45 and Washington St. in Wildwood.

Richardson's address has also changed. It is now Gurnee instead of Grayslake.

REMAP TIME

This is make-or-break week for the Republicans. A drawing in Springfield by Sect. of State George Ryan will determine the balance of what is now an eight member commission—four Democrats and four Republicans—to redistrict Illinois for the next 10 years.

The commission was named when Illinois lawmakers failed to agree on a redistricting plan by the Aug. 10 deadline. The newly-constituted body will have until Oct. 5 to do its work.

That job is to align the 59 Senate and 118 House district to reflect population changes between 1980 and 1990.

One of the two finalists is former high court Justice Daniel P. Ward. The other is state Republican party Chairman Al Jourdan of McHenry. Illinois' growth pattern favors Republicans, Jourdan says.

Ten years ago the same impasse occurred. A Democrat's name was drawn. Republicans have complained since then the 1981 map favored Democrats and Chicago at the expense of Republicans and the suburbs.

Jourdan says Republican counties like McHenry, Lake and DuPage should gain in the remap process because of their tremendous population surge.

But time will tell.

D DAY IN GURNEE

Decision day in Gurnee is Monday, Sept. 9.

That is when the village board votes on creating a new liquor license for the Phar-Mor store in Gurnee Mills. It could be a tough decision. Four votes are needed.

If that happens, Mayor Richard Welton won't be able to vote. One of his food store enterprises already holds a liquor store license in Gurnee.

If his vote isn't needed, that will make for a happier family in Gurnee. Ever since Mark Ratfelders replaced Gus Petropolous on the village board meetings have been longer and with less decorum than those of years past.

HAPPY PETITIONER

Retired Grayslake Mayor Edwin Schroeder is getting more conservative in his old age.

He is spearheading a petition drive to stop grade school Dist. 46 from putting a $2 million bond referendum on the fall ballot.

He'll do the same for Grayslake High School Dist. 127, which wants $1.5 million. If successful, referendums will be on the March ballot.

Both issues are attempts to escape Gov. Jim Edgar's five percent tax cap. "That's the best thing anyone has done for this state," Schroeder said of the tax limits.

Oh, yes, Schroeder proudly noted he is not a victim of the "politics is bad for your marital health" syndrome reported previously. Last week he and his wife, Esther, celebrated their 43rd anniversary.

FEEDING THE LIONS

Lake County lawyers aren't exactly underpaid.

They make money even when they disagree.

Former Libertyville Twp. Supv. F.T. "Mike" Graham found that out. He made a Freedom of Information request for a year-old county appraisal of the John Cuneo land between Vernon Hills and Libertyville. The county was once party to purchasing part of the property.

Forest Preserve Dist. land acquisition Atty. Joe Morrison said he had no problem with the request.

Atty. Cliff Weaver, the county's counsel, said he wanted to study it. Later, Graham received a letter saying he was being denied.

"It seems silly and wasteful to have two high-priced attorneys challenging each other's opinion," Graham said. "Especially since I am aware of the appraisal figure and only wanted a written copy to update my open space file."

***—BUSY YEAR: Another Republican stalwart is getting ready to settle down. Warren Twp. GOP Committeeman Peter Karlovics is engaged. Which makes an interesting year for him. ## Costly boondoggle

Editor:

In last April's election, a clear message was sent to the members of the Antioch High School Board of Education. Members of that esteemed board and the bond referendum supporters did not receive the message and will again be asking the overburdened taxpayers to foot that unnecessary $32 million boondoggle.

To be sure, there is absolutely no question that the present facility is inadequate and in need of substantial modernization in order to provide a 21st century education to our present and future scholars. The real question is: "How can we provide the best possible educational environment for our tax dollar?"

In 1985, Warren Township High School was built for a cost of $17 million (after a failed $30 million dollar bond referendum). What would we be getting for our additional $15 million? Does anyone know? Does anyone care?

Why is renovation preferable? Have you recently looked at the school as you drove by? Is this a facility worthy of abandonment? What would be the cost to renovate and modernize the existing facility? It has been estimated by the very organization promoting the $32 million new facility, that for $8 to $16 million, the existing plant could be modernized and expanded to house 2600 students.

I for one am not willing to allow the members of this board to use my tax money to create a $30 million legacy to their fiscal irresponsibility.

Brown out plague

Editor:

In the last few years, since all the new subdivisions have been going up in Antioch, we have been having brown outs.

All I have to do is try turning on my fluorescent lights, if they don't go on, we're having a brown out.

I have talked to several people that had motors burn out. I have had two motors burn out myself.

I talked to a local heating and air conditioning contractor and he told me they have been busy all year replacing compressors in central air conditioners.

If Antioch is so short on electricity, why does the village and county continue to grant building permits?

Why does ComEd have to run power lines through Lake Villa? Why not buy our electricity from Wisconsin where the rates are much cheaper?

Havemann is the only non-incumbent who filed petition seeking a seat on the board. Three six-year terms will be elected November 5. All three incumbents: James Lumber, Round Lake; Richard Anderson, Grayslake and Patricia Jones of Waukegan have filed petitions to retain their positions on the board.

The petition alleges that nine of the 53 signatures on Havemann's petition are invalid because the individuals are not registered voters according to CLC Vice President and board secretary Arthur Kent. "The petition was filed at 1 p.m., Sept. 3," said Kent. "An electoral board will be called to evaluate this. We have six days to do that and will set a date to do so by tomorrow (Sept. 5). Since both Lumber and Anderson are also running in the election we must select other individuals to be seated on the electoral board."

community and working as partners with taxing bodies to achieve a balance between property taxes and services.

"I've been attending CLC board meetings since last December as a member of IRATE," said Havemann. "I've noticed that CLC offers many high quality programs and a high quality staff but my concern has been the budget. While the instructional budget has been moving up about 12.9% annually, which is in line with enrollment growth and the cost of living, other expenditures have increased more rapidly. Administrative expenses are up 23 percent and capital spending has increase 200 percent since last year. The primary mission of teaching students is suffering a short fall due to the budget increases in non-classroom areas. Watching that happen I wanted to get involved with the board and put the money to the best use— back into programs where it belongs."

Incumbent James Lumber, the senior member of the board, has been a part of the board since 1967 with one year off in 1976. "I like being around people in education. I like the people that work there (at CLC) and I want to continue the good work that has been going on," he said.

essentially the same as it was in 1967 but with the tax cap, increased enrollment and decreases in state funding the money crunch is on at the local level. "One thing we've always had to our advantage on the board is a harmonious relationship between the board and the staff," he commented. Lumber said in his 24 years with CLC he has seen the education pendulum sway between vocational education and liberal arts. "It's been a long-standing debate of educators for years," he said. "We we first started we concentrated on providing vocational education then the shift was to liberal arts, now we seem to have an increased emphasis on vocational education again but with the slant on the technology that has developed in those fields."

Incumbent Richard Anderson has been associated with the board for 17 years. "The college can take a step back and really look at it's accomplishments over the past 22 years," he commented. "Our biggest problem now is pure and simple: funding. With enrollment increases and state aid cutbacks, local taxing bodies are under stress to continue and support the programs we want." Anderson agreed with Lumber that the mission of CLC has changed through the years. "Now we are not only concerned with liberal arts preparation but with trade fields that are other than the traditional such as hotel and restaurant management and food service."

Incumbent Patricia Jones could not be reached.

Merchants offer classes in holiday decorating

by ELLEN RUTLIN
Lakeland Newspapers

Creative-minded people have an opportunity to dust off their craft tools for holiday decorating workshops in Long Grove.

Mangel Gifts and the Pine Cone Christmas Shop will present a series of informative classes in Fountain Square. Participants will receive advice and instruction for home and gift decorations for Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas using old-fashioned and trendy decorating concepts.

"I'm really looking forward to the reaction to the seminar," said Gloria Garry Pine Cone designer. Garry will be conducting a hands-on workshop on bow-making. "People who see the ribbon in the shop are really excited about it and we'd like to show them how to use it."

The workshops will be held under a tent in the Fountain Square. Inside, props including a mantle and front door will be available so participants can visualize how their creations will look at home.

"You can watch somebody (create) for hours, but you've got to get into it and do it yourself to understand how something is made," Garry said. "The best way to introduce someone to bow making is hands on experience."

Participants will create items from a basic bow to a bow wreath for holiday decorating.

"We'll be giving material," she said. "They won't have to buy anything for the class."

Doug Clark, Mangel designer, will demonstrate how to use baskets, dried materials, fruit and other decorative accessories to adorn doors, window, walls and tables during the Fall season.

"We're creating something to draw more people to the area," Clark said. "The demonstrations held in the spring on a smaller scale were quite successful."

He added the outdoor facility is expected to accommodate about 100 spectators.

Though Clark's demonstration does not offer the hands-on experience. He highlights his demonstration with talks of traditions in the 19th and early 20th centuries adding a touch of history to each piece he creates for the audience.

"I'll try to show people how to accent a piece of furniture or window treatments," he said.

He will also offer tips on creating an Old-Fashioned Christmas with Victorian or Williamsburg themes, using natural and artificial materials.

•Tuesday- Decorating for fall 9:30 to 11 a.m.; Bow making and ribbon 1 to 2:30 p.m.

•Wednesday- Bow making 9:30 to 11 a.m.; Decorating for fall 1 to 2:30 p.m.

•Thursday- Old-Fashioned Christmas 9:30 to 11 a.m.; Bow making and ribbon 1 to 2:30 p.m.

•Friday- Bow making and ribbon 9:30 to 11 a.m.; Old-fashioned Christmas 1 to 2:30 p.m.

There is a $5 registration fee applicable toward purchases at either Mangel Gifts or the Pine Cone Christmas Shop. Class size is limited. Call 634-3731 for reservations.

1/2 cup honey, maple syrup or sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1 Tbl. cornstarch

Peel and wash beets. Slice in rounds and add to pot. Cover with water and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and cook until tender, about 7 minutes. Drain off liquid. In a small pot, melt 1/4 cup butter, add 1/2 cup honey and 1/2 cup orange juice. Mix well. Simmer 5 minutes. Stir in cornstarch. Simmer another 3 minutes. Pour over beets. Mix and serve.

Optional: peaches, sliced small, and a handful of raisins are a nice addition at times.

Pumpkin Cake

1 1/2 cups sugar or 1 cup honey
1 cup safflower oil
1 1/2 cups pumpkin puree
4 eggs
3 cups flour
2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 1/2 tsp. baking soda
2 tsp. cinnamon
1/8 tsp. nutmeg
1/8 tsp. mace
1/4 tsp. salt

1/2 cup raisins (soak in water first to plump up, then drain)

3/4 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 350° F. In a large bowl mix sugar (or honey), oil and pumpkin, and beat until blended. Add 1 egg at a time, beating before adding each egg. Sift dry ingredients and add slowly, mixing well. Then stir in raisins and nuts. Bake in a buttered tube pan 1 to 1 1/2 hours at 350° F. Do not open oven before 1 hour. Insert cake tester or dry knife to see when finished. Knife should come out clean.

1 bay leaf
6 cups chicken or vegetable broth
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 tsp. freshly ground nutmeg
1 tbsp. honey
salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

New Lake Zurich firm ends party frustrations

by DEBRA A. SCHWARTZ
Lakeland Newspapers

There's a new option in Lake Zurich geared mostly for the snakes and snails and puppy dog tails, and the sugar and spice and all things nice in your life.

It's customized parties.

To accomodate even the tightest budget,

Party Package Express offers four levels of festivities. The basic party consists of table settings, streamers, party hats or tiaras, invitations, game prizes, a 9-inch cake and regular balloons. Customers may add to that a 5-foot lawn sign reflecting the party's theme; a customized centerpiece; a balloon delivery by an appropriately costumed character; and of course, entertainment.

Suzanne Paris and Karin Cassara a month ago opened Party Package Express which is operated from Cassara's home. They chose the business after thoroughly enjoying organizing shindigs and other social gatherings for their families, friends and in Paris' case, for Automatic Data Processing in Chicago.

"People nowadays, due to their lifestyles, do not have the time to run here and there to get everything together. They get frustrated. It takes away the fun of planning for their children's party. We want to save people time and that frustration and let them enjoy giving the party," Cassara said.

The company specializes in children's parties but will coordinate adult parties for all occasions. However, they do not create special theme parties.

"We want people to choose from our packages, and that makes us a little bit different," Paris said. "We're trying to stay as local as we can because there is a great need for this kind of service in the Lake Zurich area. There's no party store in Lake Zurich; no place to go for custom favors," she said.

To fill the void, Paris and Cassara have designed parties for holidays, weddings and baby showers as well as children's birthdays. Each bash comes with a book of helpful hints for a successful party written by the principles.

Though their adult all occasion packages tend toward the feminine when it comes to patterns, table settings are available in solids. Limited choices are offered within each "collection" in terms of party favors and decorating accessories. Party Package Express delivers, but does not set up.

Cassara is particularly proud of the centerpieces available only as part of a package. One, the Fantasy Balloon centerpiece, features an item - such as a stuffed animal or bottle of champagne - decorated on a stand. The whole thing sits inside of a clear balloon like a ship in a bottle.

Customers may chose from six established party themes for childrens' birthdays: Minnie Mouse; dinosaurs; the Little Mermaid; Sesame Street; Barbie; and Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. Prices range from $91 to $200 for a party of eight children. There is an additional charge for larger parties.

The company books what is possibly a new trend in original offerings for entertainment: wearable art. If the option is selected, Paris and Cassara will send Vickie McCafrey to the party.

"She has a t-shirt that has a dinosaur on it," Cassara said, referring to one of the packages. "She'll bring them to the party and the children color them, then Vickie will write their name on it and add 'o-saurus.' Then it's there for the children to wear and take home. It's great for indoor or outdoor parties," she explained. All supplies are included and no special accommodations are needed for the option.

Brrdie the Clown, an Island Lake resident, and Dodat the Clown of Palatine are also available. Other entertainment packages include magic tricks, pony rides, face painting and balloon animals.

Food choices range from finger sandwiches, complete with crust removed, to chili dogs, to an assortment of cheese, meat, relish or fruit trays. A 16 page outline of delectables touts "Faabulous" homefried chicken; submarine sandwiches "you've never had one as good as ours;" and homemade macaroni and cheese "with super rich sauce."

By trade, Paris is a data entry clerk. Cassara is a housewife and part-time partner in the House Beautiful cleaning business in Lake Zurich. They are cousins. As of Sept. 7, they will have coordinated three parties professionally.

The business has cost them about $5,000 to establish. They are relying on word-of-mouth advertising as building blocks and hope within the next five years to branch out into the mail order sale of party goods and services. At the 10 year mark, they may have a party store, Paris said.

An overview of smart international investing

by T. R. GAERTNER

We are truly headed towards a world economy. We have all seen how events in foreign countries such as the USSR can impact the financial markets all over the world.

While slower growth and other problems could have a negative effect on financial markets in a number of nations along the Pacific Rim and in Europe, I remain very optimistic about the long term prospects for renewed economic vitality throughout Europe and for continued rapid growth in many of burgeoning economies in the Pacific region.

The efforts to reduce trade barriers in Europe and North America should provide additional fuel for prosperity. And the changes taking place in the USSR could also provide opportunities for both U.S. and foreign companies.

International stock

Therefore, as you develop your investment portfolio, there are good reasons to consider including international stock funds as part of that portfolio. Over the past quarter century, the major stock markets outside of North America have outpaced the U.S. stock market in 17 of the past 25 years. In that same time frame, Europe, Australia, and Far East stock index gained 96.4 percent while the U.S. index rose 216 percent.

For the past two years, the U.S. market did better than the non-U.S. markets. However, in the past 25 years, this is only the second time that the U.S. market has done better than the non-U.S. markets for two years in a row. In this same 25-year time frame, the U.S. markets have never beaten the non-U.S. markets for three years in a row.

This way to wealth

You should be aware of the fact that international funds tend to be more volatile than U.S. stock funds. In addition to the fluctuation of the value of the underlying foreign stocks in the fund, the net asset value of an international fund is also affected by currency fluctuations, both ours and theirs.

Research
As the dollar gains in value in comparison with the currency of foreign countries, the net asset value of the fund decreases. This certainly was the case for international funds in 1990. Of course, the opposite is also true. International funds will benefit when the U.S. dollar declines in value relative to the foreign currency.

And finally, you should only be dealing with those mutual fund families that have the substantial resources needed to perform research in all the foreign markets. One of the mutual fund families that we work with spends over $30 million each year researching the international markets in an effort to make the right stock choices. Their results prove that this research pays off and I believe this research is essential.

So, if you are a long term investor and can tolerate some volatility in this part of your portfolio, see your financial advisor who can help you choose an appropriate fund.

Two winning homes use Brook Furniture Rental

Two of the outstanding award winners in the Lake County Tour of Homes displayed furniture and the interior design ideas of Brook Furniture Rental, Deerfield and Elk Grove Village.

For American Tradesman, Gurnee, whose house the "Roosevelt," located in the Boulder subdivision of Gurnee, this was the first time that they had used rental furniture. The house received the award for the best interior merchandising.

Dan Riedel, head of American Tradesman, who said he is a history buff, named the 3,200 square foot house after Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The 12 room two story house valued at more than $300,000, had a traditional motif using considerable Queen Anne furniture, Knightsbridge dining table and chairs along with hutch and bar service in the dining room.

The house has a library, nine foot high ceilings on the first floor, four bedrooms upstairs and many amenities. It also has a three car garage.

Some of Brook's brand

name furniture used in the house was Bassett in the bedrooms, Lane occasionals, Carleton upholstery along with some unusual goose necked chairs and other unusual touches that attracted a large audience to the home.

Joseph Kucharski, owner of Kucharski Construction Co., Wadsworth, said his house, Woodlake, in the Whispering Oaks subdivision, Wadsworth, is "spectacular." Apparently, the Tour of Homes agreed for the 6,000 square foot house, selling for more than $500,000, won the President's Award.

The house features Universal furniture for its dining room, a Carleton sofa in the den and a La-Z-Boy chair, Armstrong bedroom furniture, Sealy bedding, Barclay upholstery in the living room, Lane Chipendale occasional tables and an Ashley Queen Anne table with related items from Brook Furniture Rental.

There also are Park East tables, chairs and bar service in the dining room from Universal, an oxblood leather sofa from Barclay in the family room/den with a fireplace.

Kucharski said he has never had so many favorable comments about a house he built. He called this two story traditional home "a monument." It even has eight foot high garage doors in the large three car garage to accommodate the new lifestyle of utility vehicles owned by families.

Mardale awarded

Mardale Industries, a food industry manufacturer in the Waukegan area for almost twenty years, today was awarded a contract by the government for distribution of portion control jams, jellies and condiments to federal facilities in many parts of the United States.

The $200,000 award is one of several contracts awarded to Mardale by the government during the past several years. Mardale Industries is owned and operated by Margaret Winslow. The company was founded by Ms. Winslow's father, Vern Waldorf in 1972.

Located at 1120 Glen Rock in Waukegan, Mardale employs 35 full-time workers, many of whom are residents of Waukegan and the surrounding communities.

Portion control items are the individual packets served in restaurants. Mardale makes most of its products on site in Waukegan. Included would be catsup, mustard, relish, salad dressing, mayonnaise, french, tartar and diet dressings. Also several flavors of jelly and jams and syrups.

Mardale sells its products to distributors throughout the United States. Many large accounts are located in the Greater Chicago area.

Mardale competed against much larger companies in the bidding process.

Mardale won the bids for the following states: Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Montana, North and South Dakota, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. Mardale already services the Great Lakes facility in North Chicago and several other federal sites in the Midwest, along with its regular commercial customers.

'Managing What's Right in Your Life'

Managing what is right in your life will be the focus of a Lake County Women In Management-sponsored program at 5:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 23 at the Holiday Inn Gurnee.

Keynote speaker Dr. JoAnn Cannon, PhD, founder and president of Inward Bound Ventures, will present a new view on managing the contributing factors to wellness and personal excellence.

"We have heard a lot about leading causes of death, but not much about what contributes to our lives when all is going well," says Dr. Cannon. "What are those factors and what do we need to do to focus on them? How do we present what is right with our lives rather than what is wrong? There will be a distinction made between the sickness repair system and the new wellness approach. You will leave this program with a different attitude on the overall perspective of what contributes to success and what women need to do to manage what's right in their lives."

Women in Management, Inc., is a support organization for professional women and women in management. For more information call Susan Thomas at (708)746-4213.

Griefnotes

There have been great advances in medical science which have removed death from the daily lives of most Americans. Because of this we are generally unfamiliar with death and grief. We are fortunate that our experience with death has lessened, but nevertheless it's important to learn about the things we can do to help ourselves and friends. Making wills and understanding how to help our grieving friends will help us cope better when the

Dr. Robert L. Epstein is offering some people a chance to get rid of their eyeglasses and contact lenses permanently with the surgical procedures radial keratotomy and keratomileusis. Epstein, a leader in the field, provides three locations for his Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery in Wilmette, Ingleside and McHenry.

You can break the glasses habit

Chances are, your vision is being corrected or enhanced by some form of optical apparatus as you read this sentence.

According to National Eye Institute figures, over 60 percent of the people in this country need to wear eyeglasses or contact lenses at least some of the time. Thirty-two percent of the people need glasses or contacts all of the time. Ninety percent of all people over 45 need corrective lenses.

Your first visit to the optometrist probably was the beginning of what would become a lifelong relationship.

The list of negatives associated with wearing glasses is a long one: Glasses get bent or broken. They get lost. They fog up. They leave the bridge of the nose or backs of the ears sore and discolored. New, stronger prescriptions are needed as you grow older. They interfere with athletics, vocational pursuits and an active lifestyle. And, no one looks quite as dashing or beautiful once they've become bespectacled.

Although not everyone can wear them, contacts can be a better proposition than glasses. Still, contacts can tear, break or disappear. They require special cleaning and care. Bright sunshine can be murder if you have sensitive eyes. A small particle trapped under a contact can drive you crazy.

Well, now there's an alternative — surgical techniques which can bring you back into focus without bothersome glasses or contacts.

by GREG MILLER

Radial keratotomy (RK) and keratomileusis (KM) are those techniques.

At the forefront of this medical technology is Dr. Robert L. Epstein, M.D., who's established offices for his Illinois Center For Corrective Eye Surgery in Wilmette, Ingleside and McHenry.

"Many people think of it (wearing glasses or contacts) as having a crutch," Epstein said. "A main reason is some people don't like the way they look when they wear glasses."

"Now, we can permanently correct the need for optical help. These procedures are safe and effective."

Although some doctors entertained the idea of RK as early as the 1800s, the technique was developed and perfected in the Soviet Union by Dr. S.N. Fyodorov during the 1970s.

To get on the cutting edge of RK, Epstein studied under Fyodorov during a 1980 stay in the Soviet Union.

RK is used to correct milder forms of myopia (nearsightedness). Incisions are made into the cornea to change its curve and thereby correcting the eye's inability to focus light directly on the retina. The procedure takes about 20 minutes per eye, and either local or general anesthesia can be administered. There's no bleeding, a minimal amount of discomfort and no overnight hospitalization. The second eye is done about two months after the initial operation.

KM is a slightly more involved surgery, which was developed by Colombian doctor Jose I. Barraquer. Epstein studied KM under Barraquer in 1983 and 1984.

KM is recommended for the nearsighted beyond the range of RK and for the farsighted. A wafer-thin section of the cornea is shaved off, recurved and resutured to the cornea. The surgery to each eye takes about 45 minutes and is painless. The second eye is done in about three months.

In some cases, RK and KM can be combined to correct astigmatism.

Although no hospitalization is required following the operations, patients should be prepared to miss up to a week of work. Slight irritation, swelling, redness, blurred vision and sensitivity to light are some brief side effects. The time of healing depends on the individual.

Prime time for both procedures is between the ages of 18 and 55.

The best way to determine if corrective surgery is right for you is to attend one of the many seminars offered at Epstein's three locations. During one of these short seminars, prospective patients are tested to see which — if any — form of surgery is feasible. Videos which explain RK and KM are shown, and Epstein himself addresses any questions.

It's a very soft-sell situation. Epstein is quick to say not everyone can be helped and to share the possible — albeit remote — chances of serious side effects.

At one recent seminar in McHenry, Rodger Hansen of Kenosha, Wis. related the success of his KM operations. He said prior to the procedure five feet was the limit of his functional vision.

"I was 24 years old, and my glasses were this thick," Hansen said, showing about an inch between his thumb and index finger. "I couldn't wear contact lenses anymore."

"Now, I can wake up in the middle of the night and not have to wake my wife up to see what the clock says," Hansen joked.

Epstein's fees include $1,500 per eye for RK and $3,400 per eye for KM. That doesn't include the cost of using Hawthorn Surgical Center, where Epstein does his operations. Many health (Continued on page 32)

Barn dance remembers piece of village history

Commemorating old time dances held in Spring Grove's village hall, square dance callers and fiddlers alike are preparing for an old-fashioned shin-dig and barn dance.

The third annual Silas Pierce Memorial Barn Dance will be held Sept. 14 at the Lazy K Campground Barn on Richardson Rd.

The annual gathering originated decades ago according to history collected by resident Chris Gallagher who reincarnated the event.

Gallagher said she brought the festivity back after an aged photo in Village Hall peaked her curiosity.

The photo was of the late Silas Pierce (1849-1938). A legendary Mc Henry County fiddler and violin maker with a shop located in Spring Grove on Blivin Road near the old ice-cream shop.

Gallagher contacted friend, historian and former resident Irene Borre, Richmond to find out the history of the picture. The task of answering Gallagher's queries was easy enough for Borre. Not only was she a long time member of the Spring Grove Historical Society, her maiden name was Pierce.

"People in the Pierce family remember the winter dances in the old Village Hall on Main St.," Gallagher said. "Members of the family would gather together, play the fiddle or piano and dance. They'd bring the kids and have a big social gathering. But during the Depression the gathering fell to the wayside."

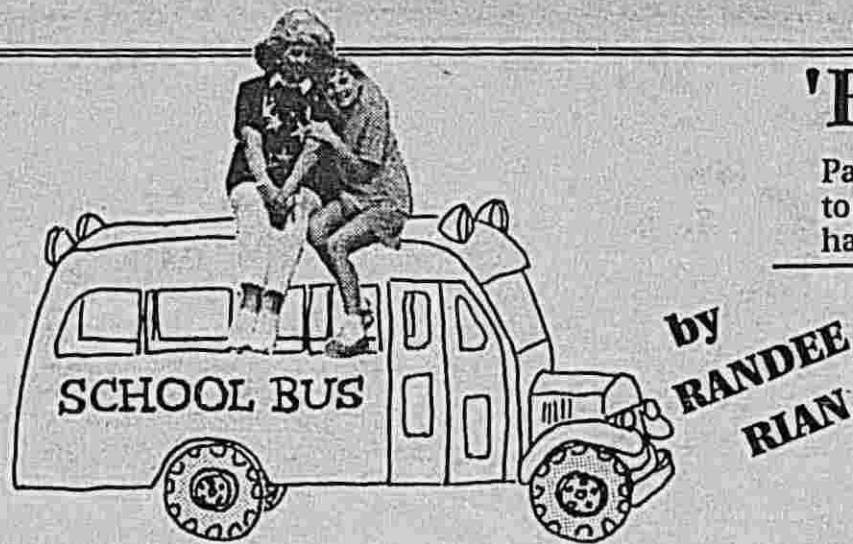

About 50 years ago, the music, dancing (Continued on page 31)

'Back-To-School' lunch bags

Packing lunch can be a real inflation fighter and lots of fun too. No one ever needs to be bored with a packed lunch; a little imagination, a little planning, and you'll have the winning combination every time.

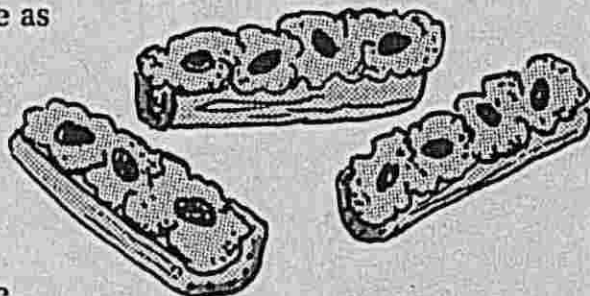

Taste

Ants on a log

I loved this as a child, just the idea of eating 'ants,' yuk! You could put chocolate chips on the 'logs' instead of the raisins, although it would not be as nutritious, but we won't tell!

length so it fills it up. Place 5-10 raisins on the top (ants). Enjoy!

bunch of celery
1 container of peanut butter
1/2 cup raisins

Cut the celery stalks into 2-3 inch pieces. Fill each celery 'log' with peanut butter and spread it over the

'Peppy' cheese mounds

Decrease the hot-pepper sauce for children, otherwise enjoy the zip. Pretty, cheesy and crunchy, nice for snacks.

1 cup coarsely shredded sharp Cheddar cheese (4 oz.) at room temperature
1/2 cup butter, softened
1 cup rice cereal
1 cup flour
1/2 tsp. hot-pepper sauce
1/8 tsp. salt

In large bowl mix well all ingredients. With hands, gather into a ball. Pinch off walnut-size pieces and place 1-inch apart on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown. Remove to rack; cool. Store airtight in cool, dry place up to 2 weeks. Makes about 30.

Good Ol' cole slaw

Delicious, made without ol' mayonnaise, lots of flavor without worrying about strict refrigeration.

1 head cabbage, shredded
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 green bell pepper, chopped fine
8 stuffed olives, sliced
2/3 cup sugar
3/4 cup white vinegar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. celery seeds
1/8 tsp. prepared mustard
1/4 cup salad oil

Combine cabbage, onion, bell pepper and stuffed olives. In a small pan mix remaining ingredients. Bring to boil and cook 3 minutes. Pour over cabbage. Cover and allow to stand in refrigerator at least 6 hours, overnight is better. Pack in lidded, paper lunch bag cups.

Freezer chicken-salad rolls

Excellent make-aheads. Wrapped airtight, they freeze well. Just pop into lunch bag; rolls will thaw in about 3 hours.

8 frankfurter rolls, split and toasted
butter, softened
1 cup finely diced, cooked and boned chicken
2 large ribs celery, diced (1/2 cup)
2 oz. Swiss cheese, diced fine (1/2 cup)
1/2 cup well-drained diced pineapple
1/8 tsp. salt, or to taste
Freshly ground pepper to taste
1/4 cup mayonnaise

Lightly spread slit sides of rolls with butter, covering to edges; set aside. Combine chicken, celery, cheese, pineapple, salt and pepper. Stir in mayonnaise just to coat. Fill each roll with about 1/4 cup chicken mixture. Wrap separately in foil, plastic wrap or freezer wrap. Freeze. Remove only as many as needed when packing lunches. Thaw in wrapper. Makes 8.

Peanut butter roll-ups

Presentation is everything, this is a fun food-fix-in' technique sure to draw their interest. Use your imagination; try cream cheese instead of peanut butter and cinnamon instead of jam or honey.

1 container of peanut butter
4 slices of bread
honey or jam
toothpicks

Remove crusts from each slice of bread and roll them flat with a rolling pin. Spread a thin layer of peanut butter on the flattened bread. Spread on some jam or drizzle honey over the top. Roll each piece of bread from the bottom up, jelly-roll style. Slice roll into one-inch pieces and insert toothpicks to hold the roll-ups in place.

Wormy apple trail mix

Tell them you've packed gummy worms in their lunch bag and you'll make their day! Mixture will keep up to 1 month at room temperature.

1 bag (8-1/2 oz.) gummy worms (1-1/2 cups)
1 bag (6 oz.) dried apple chunks (2-1/2 cups)
1 cup unsalted dry-roasted peanuts
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 cup raisins

Mix all ingredients together and pack in airtight containers.

Apple-for-the-teacher tarts

Simple and fun for children to make with you. Tuck one into your child's lunch just for the teacher.

1 cup flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/3 to 1/2 cup vegetable shortening
Ice water
1 large apple, peeled and chopped
1/4 cup sugar
1/8 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. lemon juice

With fingertips, carefully blend flour, salt and shortening in medium bowl. Gradually add enough water to make dough stick together in a ball and not fall apart when it is cooled. Roll out dough 1/8 to 1/4-inch thick on floured surface. Cut into 3-inch circles. Mix chopped apple with sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice. Place a teaspoon of apples on one side of each circle, fold over in half and press sides to seal with the wet tines of a fork. Arrange on baking pan, sprinkle very lightly with sugar and bake at 350° F. until lightly browned, about 1/2 hour.

Bird nest clusters

Easy candy-cookie for little ones to form. Dotted with small jelly beans they really look like tiny birds' nests.

1 package (12 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate chips
1/2 cup peanut butter (chunky is great if you have a choice)
4 cups chow mein noodles (or a 6 oz. bag)
Jelly beans (small ones)

Melt the chocolate chips and peanut butter together in a double boiler and stir often. After taking from stove, add the chow mein noodles. With the help of spoons, drop a ball-shaped cookie onto cookie sheet and let harden. Serve. Makes about three dozen. For a less sweet cookie, add more chow mein noodles.

Barn dance

and socializing disappeared.

Three years ago, however, Gallagher organized the first memorial barn dance carried out in the tradition of the Pierce family gatherings. At the first, memorial dance, members of the Pierce family attended with instruments in hand to participate in the festivities of their heritage.

Three years later, Gallagher has taken a back seat to organizing the activity, but enthusiastically describes the events planned for the evening.

Traditional and not so traditional Southern, Western and New England Square, circle and Contra dances to live string music are planned. A square dance caller will be on hand to guide experienced and amateur dancers alike through the patterns. Each dance is taught and walked through before the needle hits the record or the bow hits a string.

Music will be provided by Paul Tyler's Cook County Revelers with a special dance appearance by the Full Moon Cloggers.

According to Gallagher the music provides a fusion of European and African beats and melodies for the sounds heard throughout the old village hall. "Some of the musicians have researched the music styles from the period," she said.

The new location of the age-old event is the Lazy K Campground Barn, donated for the night by owners Dick and Phyllis Kazemier.

'Barton Fink' for those who love 'Twin Peaks'

Joel and Ethan Cohen, the maverick brothers who bought us "Raising Arizona" and "Blood Simple," took the Cannes Film festival with their susedo intellectual satire about a playwright in Hollywood, "Barton Fink."

Most of the film aficionados who have any claim to fame have joined with the Cannes judges in not only giving thumbs, but many fingers, up to "Fink."

Fair warning to the average film goer: Be ready to get a headache trying to figure this one out, sorting all the metaphors, etc.

If Mr. Average Flick Fan is anything like this reviewer, the question of whether the whole thing is worth it arises more than once between the flash of the title across the screen and the roll of the credits.

But then, we were one of the "intellectually ignorant" that stopped watching David Lynch's "Twin Peaks" on TV after the first confusing episodes.

The Cohens' premise is one that has Fink, played by John Torturro as a sort of unfunny Woody Allen, planting himself in a seedy Hollywood hotel as he tries in vain to write a movie script.

Will the idealistic playwright, whose only goal is to improve world conditions, be completely corrupted by Sin City?

There's a surprise twist and a very big flip in the plot that should be saved for actual attendance at a showing of the film.

We were bored by this obvious Clifford Odets' parody which just never seemed to come to a worthwhile point.

The most enjoyable part of "Fink" comes in the persons of John Goodman, who shows a propensity for dark comedy, and John Mahoney who turns in a fine performance as an alcoholic, but dapper playwright of legend.

At first we found this to be the kind of film that really depresses us because it tends to lower our estimation of our intellectual worth. Then three-fourths of the way through, we decided that our quest to delve deeper might just not be worth the digging.

John Torturro

We have to give the producing, writing Cohens credit for giving us a completely unpredictable plot. But then, is different necessarily good?

Torturro underplays even Allen but does draw more than one laugh and smile.

One of this flick's biggest faults is that the characters, even though admirably played by a cast of expert actors and includes Jon Pulio and Michael Lerner, are never clearly drawn by the script.

On the enjoyment scale, this one hardly moves the needle for those of us who hate to work too hard to have fun.

From the technical standpoint, it is filled with fine acting that helps to hold up a very heavy and confusing bit of philosophical scriptwriting, slightly abstract direction, and a bit to be desired production.

We give "Fink" three stars out of a possible five. It's OK at video prices, because the cost of first run tickets and the bottle of aspirin we took immediately following the movie, could be put to better use—renting a video copy of "Citizen Kane" with enough left over for popcorn.—by GLORIA DAVIS insurance plans cover the procedures.

Since 1978, over 300,000 RK's have been performed in the U.S. Since 1980, over 30,000 KM's have been done in this country.

Studies conducted by the National Eye Institute have found the procedures safe and effective, but Epstein said surgeons must be thorough in their follow-up care to build a "surgical learning curve."

"Follow-up care helps the patient and future patients," Epstein explained. "It takes a year for there to be feedback on a patient."

The number of RK operations performed grows with the number of doctors trained for this special area, KM is still done on a more limited basis. Epstein is one of the few doctors qualified to perform KM and Scleral Reinforcement, a procedure used help halt progressive nearsightedness that can to blindness.

Epstein's accomplishments are impressive. In addition to his medical education, he holds advanced degrees in electrical engineering. One of his many inventions includes a gamma ray and sensitive neutron dosimeter to measure the amount of nuclear radiation present in a nuclear reactor.

Epstein has written extensively on medical and scientific matters and his work has been published in numerous prestigious periodicals and books. He's currently participating in a group studying the use of lasers in eye surgery.

Epstein and The Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery performs other operations, including no-stitch cataract surgery.

Mysterious Malta

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Temples dating back to 5,000 years before the birth of Christ. Unexplainable "cart tracks" leading into the sea. Prehistoric cave-like tombs. Miles of catacombs from Roman times. Where is this fascinating land?

It's an island in the Mediterranean about 60 miles south of Sicily. It's called Malta.

You say you haven't heard of Malta? Ever heard of the Maltese falcon from the old Bogart movie? Then there's the Maltese cross which, for some reason, is popular among bikers. (The falcon was a token of payment for the use of the island as a home for the knights of the Order of St. John, the cross was the symbol of the knights with its eight points representing the eight homelands of the Order.)

Students of the Bible will know that St. Paul speaks of his experiences after being shipwrecked on Malta. His preaching has caused Malta to remain a Catholic country to this day.

But does Malta have white sand beaches and sunny skies? Sure. In fact, it is a top vacation spot for the Europeans though still relatively unknown to most Americans.

However, it's not the beaches or the climate that attracted me to Malta. Instead, it's Malta's rich and colorful history which is everywhere on the island.

The government buildings in use today date back to the 14th century. Life in walled cities a thousand years old is as it was in 900 A.D. For 35 cents, a Maltese family will let you tour some catacombs they discovered while digging a cistern under their house.

Due to its strategic location, Malta has been inhabited by many nationalities throughout history. Each has left some remembrance. My stay in Malta was more educational than Mrs. Toppings' history class at Steinmetz H.S. ever was!

A trip to Malta would be a worthwhile addition to any European vacation.

Col. Bill warns—Be aware take care of outdoors

Our battle with front door bees continues. We don't want to kill them, but they refuse to move despite our attempts to make their life pleasanter elsewhere. This has produced some stinging poetry about bees to brighten our prose.

Poetry, you know, is really prose dressed for a special occasion, such as now.

*There once was a bee and a pheasant,
And the pheasant got really unpleasant,
So the bee, on a whim,
Bit the "H" out of him—
And now he's only a peasant.*

(Stolen from Woodyard Kindling)

Another seasonal occurrence is the appearance of storms and winds that frighten and destroy. But also bring needed moisture. Years ago mariners and farmers had no weather satellites or computer warnings and had to forecast weather changes by observing signs in nature. Many were converted to rhymes for recollection and may be applied today with equal effectiveness. Maybe you recognize some of these and wish to pass them on to the kids.

"Red sky in the morning, sailors take warning, Red sky at night, sailor's delight."

Or "Ring around the moon, rain by noon, ring around the sun, rain before night is done."

Col. Bill — Outdoors

Or, "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never come to pass."

Yesterday some said, "It smells like rain." This is a shortened version of, "If with your nose you smell the day, stormy weather is on the way."

Being aware of the outdoors and the pleasures it produces, sometimes leads to assuming it always will be there.

Two hundred years ago, says a report from U.S. Fish and Wildlife, 220 million acres of marshy wetlands existed in what we now refer to as the lower 48 states. 200 years later, our Midwest area has lost 36 million precious wetland acres to the process of settlement, agriculture, population and industry, not to mention a little greed. That is about a third of the original 1,780 total. Our nine Midwest states have lost about 60-acres of wetlands every hour during these 200 years. We are playing a land-losing game which promises to get worse without increased public concern.

During the past 500 years, 90 known bird species became extinct and over 1,000 are on the endangered list. Only about three percent of animals, fish, flora and other life which existed when man first appeared on earth, can be identified today. We have become a bunch of losers and need everyone's help to stop this diminishing trend.

Spearheaded in Illinois by our Conservation Dept., National Hunting and Fishing Days will be observed Sept. 28 and 29 throughout the state. Aided by many clubs, organizations and educational institutions which recognize the need for people to understand the seriousness of conserving our outdoors, and related life, including mankind. A strong conservation effort is planned for southern Illinois in Carterville's John Logan College area, where they and Springfield's fairground, Conservation World, will present ongoing programs relating to national and local conservations needs, concerns and pleasures and aimed to stem our losing battle.

Today's youth must become familiar with our outdoor problems. In two decades they emerge as tomorrow's leaders and legislators. Our children and their families stand to suffer most from our lack of concern.

Courtesy for convenience: The trade off

Common Threads

There's a checker at our local grocery store who's a grouch. I usually try to avoid going there but it's only minutes away from my home so it's more convenient. Whenever I need a couple of items, I get up my courage, gather up the kids and enter the automatic doors with an anxious feeling in the pit of my stomach.

Everytime I go there I tell myself, "This is silly!" After all, I am the customer here. I'm a relatively easy person to get along with. I believe that while being courteous is not mandatory in life, it sure makes things more pleasant. But this woman has one of those attitudes. I'll probably hear back from someone on this but - I believe she thinks she's doing me a favor by being in a service-oriented job. The problem is, she doesn't play her part. Where have the days of genuine customer service gone! When I go to the grocery store to give a place my business, is it too demanding to expect, let alone hope for a smile or a thank you? The last time I went to the grocery store I was forced to go through this lady's line as it was the only empty one. As she rang up my items without so much as a "good day" I realized I had forgotten bread. I fearfully asked if the bagger could quickly grab me a loaf.

The nerve of me to hold up her line! I began to perspire. By now people were lining up behind me. I looked up at them apologetically and said, "I'm sorry - with three kids I find my mind is going." She looked at me and the other people and for the first time she spoke. "Don't worry about it honey! People around here are always in a hurry. They're so rude! They ought to go over to Russia and buy groceries there. They'd be waiting in line forever. That day I got a totally new perspective on that woman. For years people had probably thrown their groceries down her line without a simple "Hello" or a "Thank You."

Good Morning America had a segment on Russia the other day. They said that Red Square used to be the place to go in Moscow. However, today people stand in block-long lines for hours to visit the newest attraction—McDonald's.

The McDonald's in Moscow seats 700 people at one time. Over 27,000 applications for employment were received when it opened. The average Moscovite spends one day's salary to indulge in a Big Mac and fries. And ironically, the attraction is the customer service.

Maybe the need for convenience has replaced the need for customer service in our lives. Russians are standing in lines for it while we're settling for simply not waiting. I guess it's an O.K. trade off. It sure saves a lot of time. But I'm not so sure it contributes to our quality of life. People seem deserving of consideration whether it be their human rights or customer service.

And by the way, have a nice day!—by MEL BADELL

Student combines passion, ambition

InterViews

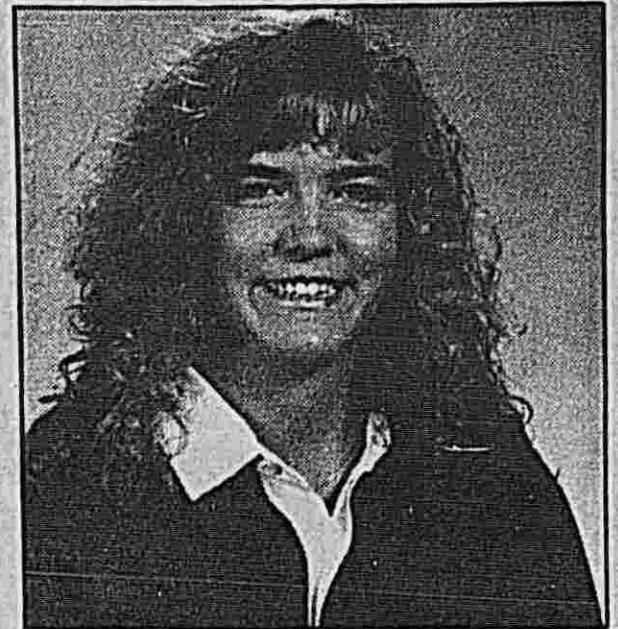

Mundelein High School Junior Stacy Beese is one 16-year-old that seems to have learned early that the recipe for success may be combining personal ambition and compassion.

The daughter of Mundelein Police Officer Richard Beese and Jane Beese, Emergency Coordinator at Condell Hospital, Stacy thrives on being involved and credits her parents for helping her to achieve success.

"I think my parents have stressed for me to get involved and learn what's important to myself," said Beese. "They've always given me a lot of support."

The Mundelein High School Junior honor student is one of two MHS representatives to the Lake County Youth Network. The network's purpose is to prevent drug and alcohol abuse in the schools through education and drug-free activities. She is also a leader in the MHS Peer Group. "I got involved to first help others and also to find out what I want to pursue in life," she said.

Additionally, Beese plays varsity-level basketball, volleyball and softball and has garnered team awards for her abilities. In addition to her extra-curricular activities this honor student has earned straight "A's" in her all-accelerated classes since beginning high school. She has also been secretary of the Spanish Club for the past two years.

Stacy Beese

As if school activities and academics aren't enough to keep her busy, she finds time to teach Sunday School at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church and to volunteer two hours a week at Condell Hospital where she does everything from taking temperatures and pulses to running errands. "I got involved at the hospital originally because I thought about pursuing a career in medicine," she commented. "I continue to do it, because I enjoy it and think it's important."

Her eye is set on attending Duke University and she plans to major in English and return to high school as an English Teacher. "My best role models have been English teachers," she said. "I've always wanted to be a teacher since I was a little. It's a great job and one that I'd like to have.—by RHONDA VINZANT

Connection line use increases 27 percent

Connection Telephone Crisis Intervention and Referral Service (CTCIRS) has been answering the calls of friends and neighbors for nearly 20 years and with each year the number of calls has increased. As Lake

County and Northern Illinois have grown so has the need for crisis intervention, for information and referrals and for emergency shelter! Connection, a United Way member agency has only been able to answer these ever growing needs because of the help of many dedicated volunteers. Training is the key to the quality of service which Connection is able to provide.

Registration for fall training for the CTCIRS crisis lines is now open. Classes for this term will be held at the Evangelical Free Church, 431 West Austin, Libertyville. The 35-hour course which is titled "Listening Skills" deals with family dynamics, helping skills, chemical dependency and crisis intervention and is under the professional direction of Connection's trainer, Curt Wennerdahl, MSW, M. Div. who is a therapist of the Grayslake Counseling Clinic. Classes run from Sept. 26 through Oct. 24 and offer college credit option. Call the Connection office at (708)362-3381 to register today!

PET PARADE

My dog has FLEAS!

Fleas! The very much disliked little creatures that the most caring pet owner may suddenly find on his or her very clean pet. The little insects only the size of a pin can drive both the pet and the owner crazy!

Fleas show up uninvited, cause discomfort, itching and skin rashes, and resist various attempts to get rid of them. People spend money on different insecticides and fleas pop back up, like weeds. Is there any hope?

Yes, there is! But one must understand the fleas living habits and act according to them. Well orchestrated total effort is not difficult or expensive and most of the time will be successful.

Fleas do not live on the pet. They live in the pet's environment such as the house and get on the pet for short periods of time only. They move about the premises at one mile per hour and lay millions of eggs. They get into the house on pets, on people, on mice in crawl spaces, on birds in attics. A successful flea program must consist of three elements: extermination of the premises, defleaing of pets and prevention. Veterinarians are a good source of products to use and advise how to use these products. (Most flea products work if used correctly and none work if used incorrectly.) The program has to be total and meticulously carried out to be effective. Cutting corners will result in loss of time and money and will be a failure.

Due to intense animal activity in warm weather, flea season peaks in the summer. Many other skin conditions such as various allergies also peak in the summer. If your pet has a skin problem this time of the year, it does not necessarily mean that it is due to fleas. It makes sense and may save a lot of trouble to ask for a professional opinion.

For questions concerning the health of your pet ask Dr. "K." Send questions to: Ask Dr. "K", c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030.

Football season brings changes on many fronts

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

New playoff rules, new leagues, new faces, some familiar faces in new places and new schedules all add up to one thing: high school football in Lake County will continue to be in a state of flux this year.

The playoff format is now based on the average size of a team's opposition enrollment, instead of one's own.

In the new leagues department, Lake Zurich has switched to the Fox Valley Conference while Richmond-Burton is now in something called the Big Northern Conference white division. That's a merger of the Big Eight and Northern Illinois Conferences.

Chris Mohr

The North Suburban Conference teams had to deal with something they have not had to think about lately: a non-conference game. Niles North's departure left nine games, meaning each team has one non-league game.

"When it was a close-ended league, if you went -6-3, you were guaranteed 33 to 39 playoff points. Now, your non-conference team has to be able to acquire points for you," Warren Coach Reggie Hughes said.

Some thoughts after tracking down area teams from Richmond to Prairie View in the hot sun of pre-season practices:

Double duty: Chris Mohr returns to the nets this fall as the Carmel High School goalie and will continue as the field goal kicker for the football team.

"Both are pretty enjoyable," Mohr, a senior, said.

Mohr had two game-winning field goals last year in Carmel's five wins. He started kicking field goals after working with Carmel assistant coach Ben Burg the summer before.

Mohr is a veteran soccer player, having played that sport since eighth grade in Barrington. He said cross shots are his most difficult to handle. "It makes it tougher to judge a ball," Mohr said.

At Round Lake, Coach Mike Dunn continues his enthusiasm for the sport after some 20 years. "I enjoy coaching football. I get a high after running on the practice field," Dunn said.

Dunn, 36-30 in seven years at Round Lake, has seen his teams dominated the NWSC but then fall shy in the playoffs. Round Lake is 0-3 in playoff games. In fact, with the exception of Antioch in the early 1980s and Carmel in 1989 making it to the quarterfinals and semi-finals, the playoffs have not been a pleasant experience for area teams. Last year, hopes were high as North Chicago, Round Lake, Stevenson, Grayslake and Richmond-Burton all made the playoffs. North Chicago and Richmond-Burton were conference champs. Stevenson, though, was the only team to garner a playoff win, a 31-13 convincer over New Trier. The Pats then lost to Loyola, eventual runners-up in Class 6A, 10-7.

Overtime

"We don't play at the level that is as consistent as some of the other 5A leagues. The worst suburban Catholic team is better than our best team," Dunn said.

With the exception of Mike Durrah at North Chicago taking over for retired Amos Jones, there are no new head coaches this year, but some schools did see changes in assistants.

Blue Devil fans will see a familiar face roaming the varsity sidelines once again. He is veteran coach and athletic director Mike Kunkle. Kunkle coached the freshmen the last two years. He turned the varsity program over to Hughes in 1985. Also new is assistant Dave Sibley, who comes over from Mundelein. Greg Cohen and Jason Paulis are also new or return to the varsity staff.

"I think Mike was ready for the move," Hughes said of Kunkle.

While many coaches like to talk about numbers on the varsity, Hughes offers a word of caution. He said increasing numbers of players is fine, but it would help if there is a corresponding increase in coaches.

Behind-the-scenes contributions: at Wauconda, the training room is closer to state-of-the-art thanks to a $3,000 donation from the booster club...Round Lake has a new certified trainer, Tate Martens, as well as new training rooms...Warren's boosters donated a new scoreboard and goalposts.

They're back: two assistant football coaches were high school sports standouts. Todd Parola, at Grayslake, is on the school's hall-of-fame for his baseball exploits. He later played on scholarship at Indiana University. At Mundelein, ex-Libertyville star Brian Wilcox is an assistant. He played his college ball at UCLA.

Our picks for the conference races are Stevenson and Warren to fight it out in the NSC with Round Lake winning the NWSC title. Lakeland Newspapers is accepting applications for those interested in assisting our fall sports coverage. High school or college students may gain valuable experience. For more information, call Steve Peterson at (708) 223-8161. See you on the sidelines.

Experience gives Pats early nod in NSC race

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Come November, if the Stevenson Patriots make the playoffs for the third straight year, there should be few, if any wrinkles in terms of preparation.

Such was not the case when the Pats prepared to battle New Trier last year. "I was a little nervous at first, but once we started playing, it was OK," Stevenson running back Joel Dant said.

The Pats dominated the Trevians to the tune of a 31-13 win, the school's first win in the playoffs. Now, with 11 starters and 19 lettermen returning, the Patriots are considered favorites to take it all in the North Suburban Conference.

Dant and Aaron McCullough are now in the spotlight. Stevenson had Mark Robich gaining most of the backfield attention last year. McCullough starts the season as the team's No. 1 quarterback after sharing that job with John Ebert the last two years.

"I worked hard in the off-season because I knew we were going to have a very good line," McCullough said.

In fact, almost all of the starters are back from last year's 7-4 team. They include Loren Kemp, 6-1, 294 pound captain Steve Meyer, 5-10, 190 Gabe Coltea, 5-10, 208 Nate Webber, 5-11, 210 Doug O'Reilly, 6-0, 190 Greg Woitasch.

To keep the defensive secondaries honest, the Pats have Chris Piggott returning for one more year. Also in the receiving corps are: Paul Corliss, Scott Klinberg, Travis Pohlmeier and Brad Lawrenz.

Joining Dant in the backfield may be McCullough once dreamed of a college scholarship or playing in the pros like his QB heroes, Dan Marino and Bernie Kosar. But at 5-11, 165 pounds, he knows his best chance may come in baseball.

"He's worked hard getting his arm stronger," Stevenson Coach Bill Mitz said of McCullough.

Stevenson will be getting its non-conference game out of the way early, as it opens against its neighbor to the south, Wheeling, Sept. 6. Mitz and Co. would like nothing better than to reverse the trend of 1-3 starts. "We'd like to start out by winning a couple of games and build from there," Mitz said.

As for the NSC, Mitz agreed with other coaches that Warren will be the team to challenge his Pats but cautioned Zion-Benton could get off to a fast start. The Patriots are hoping to do the same thing.

Returning linemen hold hope for CHS chances

Carmel's football team is hoping seven returning part-timers plus an early start will lead to a return to the playoff glory of 1988 and 1989.

"Players take the summer camp very seriously," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Perhaps more so this year, as the Corsairs did not have the usual number of two-a-day practice sessions that summer drills are known for. Carmel starts classes earlier than the public Lake County schools. The Corsairs were 5-4 last year after reaching the state quarterfinals in 1989.

Several positions are up-for-grabs as 50 players are seeking the starting berths. Seven part-time players are returning from last year, four on offense, three on defense. "The kids are looking at it as a real competitive situation," Fitzgibbons, in his sixth year at Carmel, said.

At quarterback, Gene Sutter, Ryan Koseor and Victor Castro are battling for the nod.

The Corsairs have some underclassmen on the varsity this year, including 6-2, 226 pound sophomore lineman Matt Ehrhardt.

Seniors back include linemen Pete Graham, Jonathan Smith, Joe Keller, Gus Eberhardt, Matt Schlatter and Mike Feightner.

Junior Germaine Williams returns to the backfield as Carmel's leading running back.

On defense, it could be a situation of a fast learning track for CHS.

"We've got to gain experience quickly," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs have a road-dominated schedule this year. Woodstock has been dropped from the and Fenwick added. "We lost two playoff teams and gained two more," Fitzgibbons said.

As for the East Suburban Catholic Conference, Fitzgibbons sees defending champ Joliet Catholic, Marist and Marian Catholic as the leading pre-season contenders.

Sports Profile

Head Coach: Mike Fitzgibbons

Coach's record: 30-19

Coach's experience: five years

Number of players reporting for practice: 50

Key returnees: senior linemen Pete Graham, Jonathan Smith, Joe Keller, Gus Eberhardt, Matt Schlatter and Mike Feightner.

Mustangs hope victory brings more momentum

The monkey is off the backs of the Mundelein High School football team.

Now the Mustangs are trying to achieve that next step, respectability in the North Suburban Conference and moving toward the .500 mark.

"I think there is more enthusiasm and a better work ethic. I don't think we'll be a playoff qualifier, but we'll be better," Mundelein Coach Mike Egan said.

A win over Fenton in the season finale broke a long losing drought for Mundelein as the two 0-8 teams met.

Mike Heinz, a wideout and Matt Johnson, a center, lead the returnees. Also back for the 30-player team are defensive end George Canauan, cornerback Mak Dina and junior linebacker Scott Waller, who played in fine games last year.

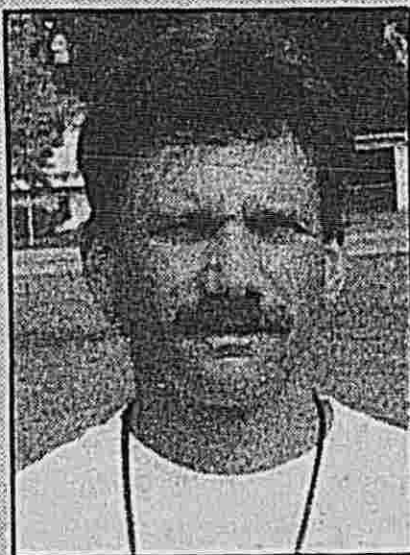

Mundelein has already received some bad news in that Alvin Cruz, who was a standout linebacker the last two years, will not be able to play due to eligibility reasons. Cruz had 71 tackles last year.

"We're thin in depth and inexperience are our two biggest problems," Egan said after another practice session.

A quarterback derby is unfolding at practice with no one taking firm command, according to the second-year coach. Sophomore Jim Akins could see playing time as well as junior Mike Smith.

Heinz, who kicked four field goals in the win over Fenton, is expected to resume his kicking chores. "He went to a kicking camp and has improved his distance and accuracy," Egan said. Egan was brand new on the MHS scene last year after taking over for Gary Heifner. "We wanted to get the program established. Now the kids know what to expect," he said.

The biggest hole Mundelein must fill is in the backfield with the graduation of Larry Maddock. He had four touchdowns and 425 yards last year.

Brian Wilcox, a former player at Libertyville High School who went on to play at UCLA, joins the MHS staff.

Mundelein football player Matt Johnson works on his technique in a practice. Mustangs are hoping to surprise some North Suburban Conference watchers this fall. Mundelein opens the season by hosting Zion-Benton Sept. 7.

Vikes hope offense can regain initial successes

The Lake County Vikings will be searching for the same offensive efficiency which generated more than 70 points in the pre-season and set a single-game team record in the season opener Sept. 7 against the Chicago

Thunder. Game time is 6 p.m.

The Vikings defeated the Thunder 60-21 in a scrimmage game in July.

The Vikings were held scoreless for the second straight week in a 10-6 loss at Gary Saturday. The defense again scored the only touchdown. This time it was on a 75 yard return of a blocked field goal by Larry Bobo.

"He just hit the sidelines and outran everybody," Vikings Coach Russ Kraly said.

The Vikings had their chances throughout the game, and the team had the ball at the Gary 11 and four-yard lines in the fourth quarter but did not score. The Vikes, 1-2, were within the Gary 20 four times but came up with a gooseegg.

"It's not a matter of someone beating us, it is our mental mistakes. Someone different is making a mistake each play and we can't afford that," Kraly said.

Although the defense turned in another strong game, it lost one of its stars. Linebacker Bobby Jones may be lost for the season due to a knee injury suffered in the third quarter. Jones scored the Vikes' only points on a safety in a 14-2 loss to Palos-Orland Park Force the week before. He had eight solo tackles against Gary. Steve Chester or Eric Glover are expected to replace him.

"Nothing has been able to wake up the offense yet. We have to get the offense going," wide receiver Rick Starosta said.

Gridders continue careers

Three area high school graduates are hoping to contribute to the success of Valparaiso University's football team.

Scott Krzeminski, a punter, defensive back is a 6-2, 215 pound junior. He is a graduate of Lake Zurich High School.

Krzeminski became a starter at defensive-back outside linebacker, making 14 tackles, including one sack and two others for losses in 1990. He punted 23 times for a 34 yard average. In 1989, he punted 30 times for a 37.7 average for a career average of 36.1.

Chad Schmitt, also a junior, is a tight end. The 5-11, 200 pound Schmitt is a graduate of Stevenson High School and a Hawthorn Woods resident.

New to the Valpo program is Ozzie Young. Young, 6-2, 280, is a running back who was a major force in North Chicago Community High School's winning the North Suburban Conference title last year.

The Crusaders are trying to build a winning program as they have only one win in the last two years. They had a 23-game loss streak from 1988 to Sept. 29 of last year.

Valpo opens play Sept. 7 at Ashland University. The home opener is Sept. 14 at 1:30 p.m. against Hillsdale College.

RL welcomes first trainer

The paint is still fresh on the walls of the three rooms at Round Lake Senior High School.

The rooms in question are at the lower level of the high school, hard by the weightlifting area. But when Round Lake players, whether they be a football player with a dislocated shoulder or a volleyball player with a twisted ankle, they can be assured of one thing: the training equipment used in their rehabilitation is brand new.

"It is one of the best rooms as far as high schools that I've seen," Round Lake trainer Tate Martens said.

Martens is new to the Round Lake staff as a certified trainer. He, along with student trainer Chris Oaf, will be helping the Panthers through the rehabilitation. The equipment includes two whirlpools.

Martens played football and basketball at Champaign Centennial High School and then at Western Illinois University. But he knew his sports career would be over when he graduated from college. "I knew I was not going to make it in the major leagues, but I wanted to stay involved in athletics," Martens, a Crystal Lake resident, said.

Hence, the desire to become a trainer.

The latest trend in injuries is for ice treatment. "We have found that heat actually worsens the injury," Martens said.

Early numbers in favor for Grayslake chances

To paraphrase the movies, win games, and players will come.

That may be the case at Grayslake Community High School. Two straight playoff appearances have sent the Rams, once looking for players, into making depth charts. Some 35 tried out for the first day of practice.

"There will not be a big difference between our first guys and our second (string) guys. That was what hurt us against teams like Lake Forest and Round Lake. This year, we could have close to 100 kids in the program," Bill Johnson said with pride.

The Rams have posted two 6-4 records in Johnson's two years and were within a half of gaining the first Northwest Suburban Conference title for Grayslake in 20 years. Grayslake led at halftime, but Round Lake dominated the second half and won going away, 30-13.

Key returnees include 5-10, 240 pound Sean Walker, 6-3 170 pound tackle Brian Bouma and guard Dave Marthouse.

The Rams are young in the skilled positions but return an offensive line determined to give them plenty of room to run and throw. Two juniors are battling it out for the quarterback role, Brian Andrews, 6-1, 175 and Scott Schupp, 5-10, 150, are the leading candidates.

"We have to review our specialty teams. In the Lake Forest game, we gave up some 300 yards on specialty teams," Johnson said.

Jack Johnson, a 6-0, 170

pounder returns at running back.

Other seniors include running back-safety Bill Guenther, tight end-cornerback Mike Usmiller, tackle, linebacker Mark Corella; guard- defensive end Chris Taylor; center, cornerback Curt Onstad; guard, cornerback Eric Stewart; tight end, linebackers Rob Horvath, Mike Rutkowski and Mike Fogt.

Returning stars boost optimism at Johnsburg

Last year, the Johnsburg Skyhawks came with a play here, a play there of making the post-season playoffs for the first time.

This year, the Skyhawks appear ready to take that next step as they feature three returning all-conference players and eight returning starters. The Skyhawks achieved a winning record for only the second time in the school's 11-year history last year at 5-4. Now some Northwest Suburban Conference coaches are picking the Skyhawks to challenge Round Lake.

"Our attitudes are right where we want them to be," Johnsburg Coach Hap Farlow said.

The Skyhawks, behind senior quarterback Matt Christman, are coming off a summer passing league title at Knox College. The Skyhawks are hoping to do the same as North Chicago did last year, when the Warhawks parlayed a summer passing league title to a first North Suburban Conference title in 20 years.

"We were within one play here or there. We had a taste of what it was like," Farlow said.

Johnsburg has been making steady strides since Farlow's first year when the team went winless. "You just work hard. No one has worked harder in the off-season than we have," Farlow said. He points to the fact that 18 Skyhawks, using their own money, attended a camp this summer.

Along with Christman, all conference returnees are lineman Jake Wakitsch, a 6-1, 225 pound guard and tackle and Adam Kloth, a 6-3, 195 pound guard and defensive end. The Skyhawks have six players listed as 200 pounds or better.

"That could be a disadvantage if you play a team that relies on quickness," Farlow said. But Skip Madsen, a senior tackle at 6-0, 265 pounds, runs a 4.99 40 yard-dash. "In the past we were lucky to have backs run under five," Farlow said.

Howard Beam, another senior tackle, is the biggest Skyhawk at 6-1, 270. Ed Jurgensen, a junior tackle at 6-1, 215, also is looking to contribute.

Challenging Christman at quarterback is junior Pat Brey. "Matt is much more physical. He is 190 pounds and can bench press 350. I don't think you'll find as strong a quarterback as he is," Farlow said as his team prepared for the Sept. 6 opener at Richmond-Burton.

Fullback Scott Malecki and halfback Rick Miller return.

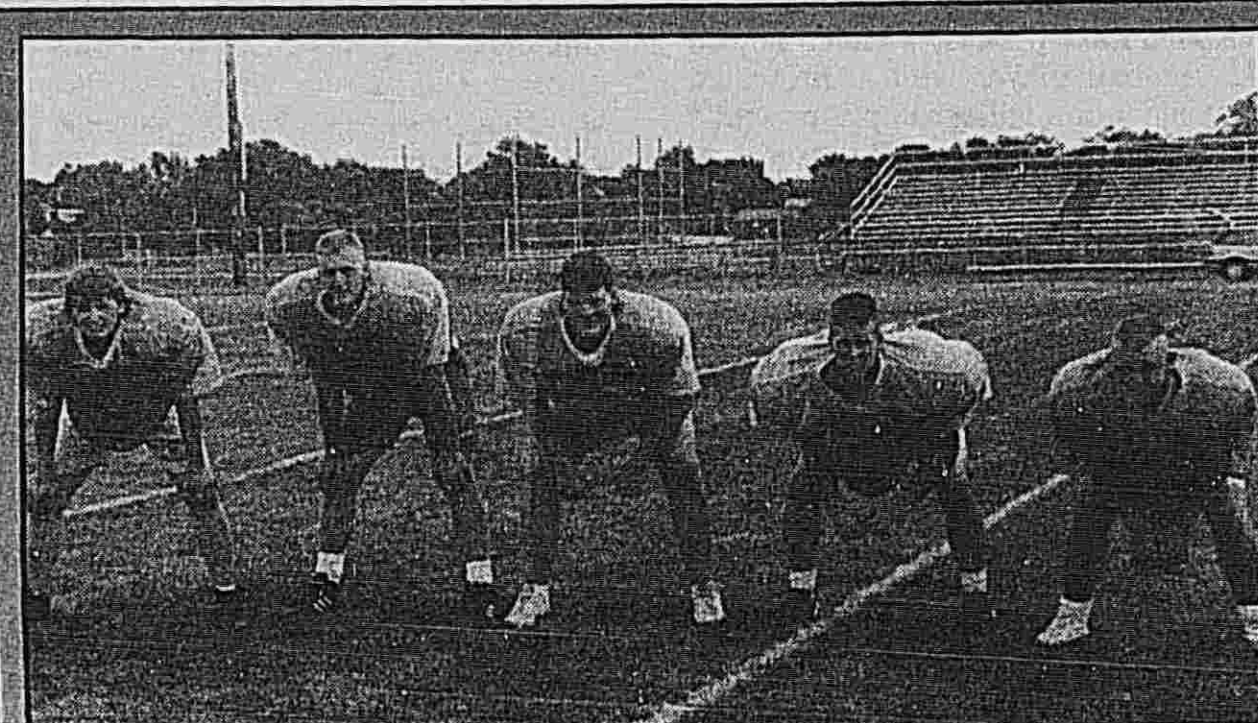

Senior Chad Tapio, who can play tight end, flanker or split end, and Grant transfer Chris Appel are among the top receivers.

Wakitsch returns as the Johnsburg punter. Last year he averaged 37 yards a boot.

This will be the second year for lights at Johnsburg High. "I think we had more fans for our season opener last year than we did for the entire previous season," Farlow said.

And Farlow, 6-21 in three years at JHS, is hoping the Skyhawks continue to see the light.

Ready to open holes

Panther teamwork

Round Lake is hoping traditions can continue

If there is anything to be said for tradition, Round Lake should be the team to beat in the Northwest Suburban Conference football race.

The smaller conference, down to five teams, could be ripe for the Panthers' picking, as Round Lake is coming off a year in which both the sophomore and varsity teams went undefeated in league play. The Panthers also won the freshmen league to make it a clean sweep.

"Our strength is that the kids are a product of a system. We run the option at all levels and we believe in it," Round Lake mentor Mike Dunn said. Dunn, who enters the Sept. 6 opener against McHenry with a 36-30 record, is always quick to point to the work done by his assistants, Dave Channel and Leroy Nordlund at the varsity and Kevin Dempsey at the sophomore level.

Tradition continues at Round Lake with the Teschs and the Horns continuing on the Panther roster. Steve Horn is a junior center while Luke Tesch is a junior running back.

The Panthers are fielding a somewhat inexperienced team this year, hence the team theme, "Operation Challenge". "Defy the odds" was one slogan suggested as Dunn spoke with seniors following a practice session.

Vinnie Lira returns for his junior year and will be the Panthers top backfield threat. Dunn calls him "the most exciting player in the area". Back at fullback is Pat McCue, a senior.

Adam Tesch, a 6-3, 190 pound senior, hopes to take over where Mike Bragg left off at quarterback. He is playing on the same field where his brother, Walter, did before him. Walter is now at quarterback for the semi-pro Lake County Vikings.

Ed Edison, John Cooper and Mike Cardwell are juniors hoping to leave their mark as wide receivers. Derek Hart, a 6-0, 160 pound senior, is a returning letterman in the wide receivers group.

As far as the NWSC goes, Dunn tabbed Johnsburg as a possible challenger with the annual showdown games with Grant and Grayslake also playing big parts in the schedule. "Grayslake, Round Lake is to the NWSC what Michigan-Ontario State used to be to the Big Ten. The conference title should be determined at the end of the year," Dunn said.

Another tradition the Panthers hope to continue this year.

Speed is the name of Grant's grid game

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Speed — and plenty of it — is what Grant head football coach Rob Kruse is counting on to carry his Bulldogs through their regular season and into the playoffs.

"We've got some fast ball carriers — probably the fastest in the conference," said Kruse, who's in his third season as the Bulldogs' boss. "We have a lot of speed, but we're not very big."

The Bulldogs, 4-5 overall and 3-4 in the Northwest Suburban Conference last year, open at Algonquin Friday night. Grant got off to a 3-1 start in 1990.

Kruse has three-quarters of the top NWSC 400-meter relay team vying for spots in the offensive backfield: Chris Alex, Joel Pardubsky and Adam Glauser.

Alex, who started last year before leaving the team at mid-season, is "back this year and working real hard," Kruse said.

Pardubsky, who was undefeated in the 100 and 200-meter dashes last spring before suffering an ankle injury, is "the fastest kid in the conference — without a doubt," Kruse added.

Two of the tri-captains, Steve Kamin-sky and Tom Schweiss, are candidates for skilled-position spots.

Angel Pineda is penciled in as the starting quarterback. His competition at QB is Brett Timblin.

Ben Robinson, a transfer from Mundelein, is a good bet at one wide-receiver spot, while Doug Bein will probably start for the second year at tight end.

Offensive linemen at the head of the list are center Todd Richards, guard Rob Stueber and the third captain, tackle Bill Krebs.

Richards started at defensive end a year ago, while the 6-foot-4, 230-pound Krebs is "the biggest, strongest, toughest, meanest kid on the team," Kruse said.

Krebs, a senior and two-way starter, missed the 1990 season after being hurt in a car accident. He needed 100 stitches just to repair his head injuries.

Nose guard Rick Justus and tackle Tim Fanella plan to complement Krebs in the defensive line, while Richards, Bob Gerstner and Tim Culotta lead the linebacking corps.

Any combination of the skilled-position offensive players already listed by Kruse will make up the defensive secondary.

Pardubsky will give the Bulldogs an added dimension with his strong leg. Kruse said the senior can hit field goals from 35 yards out.

Kruse's 29-man roster is devoid of sophomores, and that won't change, he said. The sophomore team is 40 strong and preparing for the future.

"We won't use any sophomores — period," Kruse said. "I think they'll go undefeated this year. They've got good speed, a good quarterback and a good line."

Round Lake and Johnsburg are the teams to beat in the NWSC, Kruse predicted. "And, hopefully, we'll be right up there, too."

"We've got to work on our offensive line blocking and the defensive line has to be quick off the ball."

"They've got a great attitude and they're working real hard," Kruse concluded. "This is one of the hardest-working teams I've had."

Wauconda thankful for full slate of games

The schedule looks like any other in the history of Wauconda football.

As in previous years, there are nine games listed. This time around, the Bulldogs are hoping to play a full season. Last year, two games were counted as forfeits because of a teacher's strike. After a 2-0 start, the final record was 3-6.

"We don't have that hanging over our heads," Wauconda Coach Bob Kasper said.

The Bulldogs are, instead enjoying the use of $3,000 worth of training room equipment to get ready for the season opener Sept. 6 at Cary-Grove.

The Bulldogs had 32 players report for the first day of practice, including 12 seniors, seven returning starters and some talented newcomers.

"All were pretty good players last year and the freshmen and sophomores had winning records," Kasper said.

Top returnees include linebacker Chris Baugher, wide receiver and linebacker 6-0, 170 John Sanu, 6-4, 220 pound lineman Brian Hluchy and 5-10, 145 pound split end and defensive back C.J. Lubeno.

Junior Byron Johnson is back at quarterback but a transfer from Buffalo Grove, Lynn Stanley, may also see playing time.

Depth could be a key factor for Wauconda, who usually suffers when it plays teams with more numbers. "I hope they won't have to go both ways and we can give them some rest and spell some kids," Kasper said.

He said he had "no complaints" about the smaller Northwest Suburban Conference. The league is down to five teams this year. Wauconda added Elgin St. Edward and Montini. "I'll have to go with Round Lake until someone knocks them off," Kasper said of the league race. Johnsbury, a 5-4 team last year, may be the leading candidate to do that.

And who knows, now that Wauconda is back to playing all nine games, it can be eligible for the "anything can happen" label.

Scouts, Warhawks battle starts cable TV telecasts

Nine high school football games will be carried this season by U.S. Cable on the Star Channel, channel 3.

Broadcasting the games will be veteran U.S. Cable sportscaster Dan Capasso. He will be backed up for most games by color announcer Chip Egan, the substitute for Capasso when he is out of town.

Lake Forest high school games will be televised the first two weeks of the season. Their athletic director, Terry Barton, said televising the games definitely is significant, especially this year since due to construction only three home games will take place at the high school.

He said that through television it gives everyone who wants it a chance to watch their team. The players enjoy seeing the reruns of the game and even video it as a keepsake.

Some games will be shown live while others will be taped but all of the game will be replayed three times except for one contest in the week that follows the games.

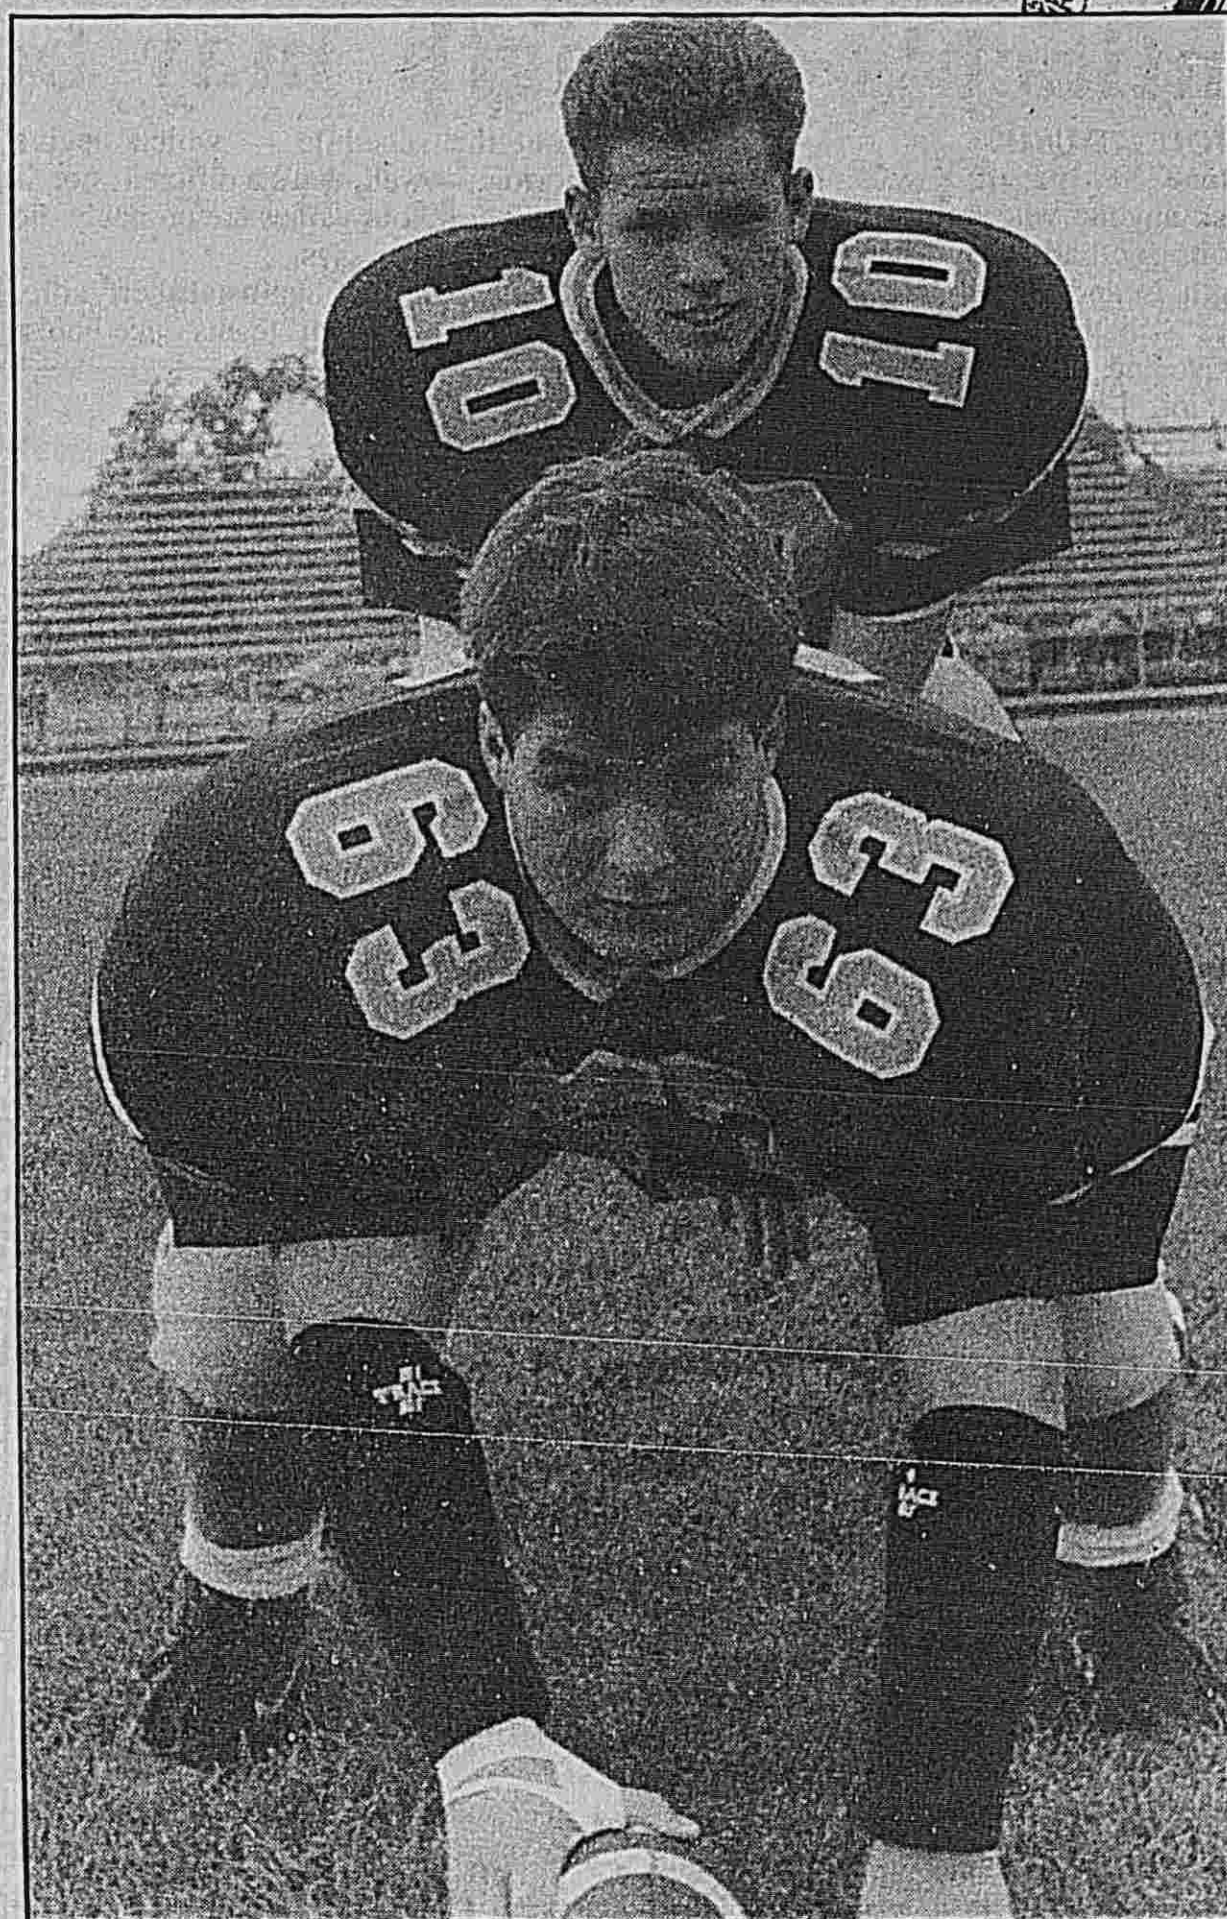

The teams, date of play and times are as follows: The first replay each week will be at 8 p.m., the second one at 1:30 p.m. and the final replay at 10 a.m.

Lake Forest at North Chicago will be replayed Sept. 10, 12 and 14. Antioch at Lake Forest will be live at 1 p.m. Sept. 14 with replays Sept. 17, 19 and 21. Warren at North Chicago will be taped Sept. 21 with replays Sept. 24, 26 and 28.

Glenbrook North at Waukegan will be broadcast live at 2 p.m. Sept. 28 with replays Oct. 1, 3 and 5. Maine South at Waukegan Oct. 5 live with replays Oct. 8, 10 and 12. Zion at Warren will be taped Oct. 11 for replay Oct. 15, 17 and 19.

Fox Lake at Grayslake will be taped Oct. 18 for broadcast Oct. 22, 24 and 26. Johnsburg will be at Fox Lake Oct. 25 for tape play Oct. 29, 31 and Nov. 2.

Shelton era ends with return to winning ways?

The Shelton era will be coming to an end at Warren Twp. High School this fall, and Craig Shelton would like nothing better and to help the Blue Devils return to their glory days of the late 1970s through mid-1980's.

The Blue Devils have had two sub .500 seasons in a row now, and have not made the playoffs since 1986, a previously common occurrence.

"Craig is every bit as good as Derek (Craig's older brother) was in passing but we had an average of 70 yards in passing lost because of dropped passes last year," Warren Coach Reggie Hughes said.

Hughes gathered his players around in a semi-circle following another Saturday practice and explained the "big picture" of offense. "That's got to improve. We need to have 2,700 or 2,800 yards to contend for the conference title or make the playoffs," Hughes said. Warren was 4-5 last year, and all but one of the losses were to playoff teams. Antioch, the fifth loss, had a chance until the second half of the final game.

Jeremy Wilmot may be the leading receiver back for Warren, as he had five touchdown catches in 1990.

The Blue Devils have had two straight 8-1 sophomore squads. "That does not mean you will be 16-2 on the varsity," Hughes cautioned.

Dan Jung and junior Bob Olson are vying for playing time at running back. When Josh Roberts injured a leg midway through last season, Paul McKissick stepped in and had a 1,000 yard season. "We're taking a serious look at Olson," Hughes said.

Have a great season!

Antioch's strength may be in the trench battles

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

Ask anyone who knows the Antioch Sequoits football team what this year's strength is and they'll tell you it's six players — better known as the returning offensive line.

Seniors Dan English, Steve Frillman, Kris Green, twins Keith and Kevin Wisniewski and Mike Stahmer are back as starters on the Varsity team.

"We lost just about everybody else," says Head Coach Del Pechaur. "No receivers, no running backs, no quarter back."

Pechaur says his backfields — offensive and defensive — are looking good.

So is new quarterback Josh Miller, a senior from Lindenhurst.

"He's playing hard for us," Pechaur says.

Miller stays humble but puts it the way he feels.

"I feel privileged and all," he says. "It's my first year as a starter but I think I can do the job."

Miller says he feels comfortable with his offensive line because all starters last year are starters this year.

But the schedule — which begins tomorrow — well, that's a different story.

"The first four games are probably the toughest," Miller says.

Game No. 1 is against Libertyville. Then last year's playoff teams Lake Forest and Stevenson come next, followed by Warren.

Last year, the Sequoits lost their first two games, then "got it together and picked it up," Miller says.

"You can't take any team lightly," he says and speculates on the rest of this year's season. "We should be able to win those games."

Coach Pechaur doesn't care much about game schedule. "We got to play them all anyway," he says.

"It would be nice if we could win a game or two at the beginning, but it doesn't matter. If we don't play well it doesn't matter who we play."

Returning this year as running backs and linebackers are the terrorsome twins Tim and Tom Lehn.

"They play hardnosed football," Pechaur says.

Tom, a wrestler who came in second in state last year, looks over the team during the second week of practice. "The defense needs work, but we're getting there," he says.

Then, "We're gonna be good." Somewhat more talkative is brother Tim.

"Our offense is looking good. We have a lot of good talent in the backfield," Lehn says.

And of course he adds that the offensive line are returners.

Last year's Sequoits came within one quarter to entering the playoffs.

Quickness top LHS strength

Libertyville High School's football team had its usual winning record in 1990, but missed the playoffs for the first time in four years.

The Wildcats are hoping to gain two November games this year and believe some key players returning plus some quick newcomers may make the Wildcats a sleeping giant ready to wake up the North Suburban Conference.

"We have good quickness in the backfield and the boys can hit and cut well," Libertyville Coach Dale Christensen said.

Tim Farmer and Justin

Barnes both return at half-back for the Wildcats are looking for big senior years. Farmer rushed for more than 300 yards last year.

Last year, an injury to John Garwal midway through the season derailed the 'Cats and the team did not recover.

This year, senior Jason Skurkay gets the call for the season opener against Antioch Sept. 7. Juniors Ethan Waugh and Peter Dousman give the Wildcats depth at the position.

Wide receiver Greg White, a 5-10, 162 pound senior, "has improved greatly,"

Christensen said.

Senior linemen back over 200 pounds include: Jim Evans, a 5-11, 227 pound guard; Jason Janavicius, a 6-0, 203 pound tackle; Ken Klaszky, a 6-0, 210 pound tackle; Chris Hanese, a 6-2, 200 pound tackle; James Wood, a 6-4, 234 pound tackle; Christensen, who topped the 100-victory mark last year, acknowledges that his son Matt, now at Michigan State University, will be missed. But there is one more Christensen on the Libertyville roster. Dale's son Reed plays linebacker and is on the varsity as a sophomore.

Bears aiming to surprise

One could not blame some Lake Zurich fans for holding their collective breath before the start of the new football season.

For a new, challenging era is about to start at Mel Eide Field. A new conference with bigger opponents await the Bears, who were only 1-8 last year. But Coach Wayne Kuklinski feels his Bears will rise to the occasion.

"The attitude is a lot better this year. I am pleased with the amount of work put in in the summer and that will help," Kuklinski said.

The Bears competed in a passing league at Wauconda and an eight-game tourney in Waukegan as well as testing at Libertyville High this summer.

The Bears open the season with three home games - against Mokena Sept. 6, against former NWSC foe Grant Sept. 13 and battle their first FVC game against Woodstock Sept. 20.

Two quarterbacks are vying for the starting nod, right-handed thrower Brian Krezminski, back from last year and lefty Jerry Blum, a junior.

Backs returning include Scott Calacci, Ian and Joe Carbis. Receivers include

John Christenson, Mark Okalita and T.J. Kokaska.

"We have almost everybody back and the experience factor should be there," Kuklinski said of the line play.

Steve Vascy, a basketball player, is back at tight end. Jason Sfire returns at tackle as does 6-2, 245 pound Bob Elrod, guards Matt Aulakh, Jason Lax, Jason Powers, Chris Crates (5-10, 240), center Al Strobl and Nick Tsiakis.

All told, there are 16 lettermen returning, seven on offense, four on defense on the 36-player roster.

Green Up

Planting a tree provides shade and cleans the air

There is a way to fight pollution and the greenhouse effect: Plant a tree! We may not be able to make up for the loss of tropical forests, but we can help create pleasant microclimates and start a family tradition at the same time. The air is noticeably cleaner around a house surrounded by tall, leafy trees than in a neighbor's treeless yard.

The Garden Council tells us that our urban and suburban environments can use far more trees than what we now have. If the yard is empty of trees, as the typical suburban subdivision lot is, the first priority should be to search for the kind of shade tree recommended by the city or by that most valuable extension agent of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Equipped with the information from your search, a visit to your local nursery or garden center can assist you in selecting shade trees perfectly suited for your new landscape. Their expert horticultural assistance will help ensure the longterm success of your yard and gardens.

A tree must be planted at least 20 feet from the house.

Otherwise, its roots may attack the foundation of the house, or the foundation will block and stunt the growth of the tree's root system.

The distance between the planned new tree and trees already standing should be carefully studied. The location of the new planting site must be determined by the eventual heights and root spreads of all the trees—and not on the basis of current dimensions.

The ideal time to plant a tree is on a raw day in October, with the sky overcast and warnings of rain for the days ahead. The sun is well-come after the roots are established.

Buying and planting a tree is always a celebration. In some families, it is a custom to mark a child's birth—or the start of a new business venture—by planting a long-lived substantial tree, such as an oak or an apple tree.

Macki, seniors prepare to take ACHS spotlight

Now it may be Janelle Macki's turn to grab the spotlight.

The Antioch Community High School volleyball player has been on the varsity since the end of her freshman year. Yet, there was always someone who would grab the headlines while Macki turned in workmanlike efforts.

"This is a good opportunity for her. She has always been overshadowed by some seniors," Antioch volleyball Coach Gwen Varney said of Macki.

Macki, now a senior, and Cathy Gunther, are two Sequoits who saw a great deal of playing time as Antioch reached the 20-win plateau last fall.

Macki, at 5-9 who also plays basketball, is a 92 percent server and had 156 points last year, both second on the team. She was 184-223 in hitting, an 83 percent efficiency and had 70 kills.

Antioch was among the favorites to challenge Stevenson when last year began but lost to the Pats three times. The Sequoits, 22-11, were upset in the regional final by Round Lake.

"It was disappointing but in volleyball, anything can happen. The kids had a really good year," Varney said.

Those accomplishments included Terri Farnsworth being named all-NSC for the third year and she is now playing for Gettysburg College in Pennsylvania; Deana Olenek being named all-NSC for the second year and she is playing at Lake Forest College. Kelly Damron will also be missed from last year's team and she will be trying for a spot on the Western Illinois University team as a walk-on.

Hoping to take their places in the minds of the Antioch faithful are: Cathy Isher, who Varney calls the team's best receiver. "She is a consistent hitter. She's not flashy, but she always keeps the ball in play," Varney said.

Carrie Delany, a 98 percent server last year, returns as a setter.

Up front, junior Cori Todd is back. She played on the varsity and made the starting lineup last year as a sophomore.

The Sequoits, with seven lettermen on the squad and nine seniors, figure to have experience going for them. Antioch is at Jacobs tournament this weekend.

Antioch's first home match is not until Sept. 11 against Libertyville, the NSC opener.

ACHS sponsors 'Homework without tears' on Sept. 12

The Antioch Community High School Student Assistance Program is sponsoring the first Parent Awareness Night entitled, "Homework Without Tears." This is a two-hour workshop for parents and teachers that is designed to teach some simple techniques that are guaranteed to improve your child's success.

This workshop will show you how to take the grief, frustration and tears out of homework; get homework finished on time; help your child develop lifelong study skills; encourage your child to do his/her homework independently; create a positive learning environment at home; and ensure your child's success in school by changing negative attitudes into positive attitudes.

"Homework Without Tears" will be presented on Thursday, Sept. 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the ACHS commons. Childcare will be provided by the ACHS childcare class for the first 25 children whose parents contact Cathy Cratty to reserve a space. If you have any questions or would like to reserve a space for your child, call Cratty at (708)395-1421.

Funds released for new CLC classroom building

The release of $800,000 in capital development funds announced today by Governor Jim Edgar means that detailed planning and design of a new $12.5 million multi-use instructional facility at the College of Lake County can begin as early as the end of this year, said Dr. Daniel J. LaVista, college president.

"With the release of these funds, we can move full speed ahead with the planning and design of the building, which is badly needed to accommodate our rapidly increasing enrollment," LaVista said.

Enrollment at the college has increased 18 percent since 1988, and the college projects future increases of four to five percent annually. As a stop-gap measure to accommodate the enrollment increases, alterations to the Grayslake campus building are now underway. These include transforming a large lecture hall into individual classrooms and building faculty offices in hallways.

The urgency of the college's need for additional classroom space prompted the Illinois Board of Higher Education to list the multi-use building as its number one priority project for fiscal year 1992.

The funds released by Edgar were included in the fiscal year 1991 appropriation signed by former Governor James Thompson. That appropriation included $1.9 million for the multi-use facility. The $800,000 just released is the first of the money made available.

"We are very grateful to the governor for releasing the funds and to our Lake County legislators who worked on securing funding for us during the last year and a half," LaVista said. "Our efforts now will be on developing plans for the facility and working for future appropriations to continue the work."

State statute for public school fee waivers

Children of low income families will have a better opportunity to participate equally in educational programs, thanks to regulations adopted by the Illinois State Board of Education. The regulations require school districts to waive school fees for children of low-income households, including all households eligible for the federal free school lunch or breakfast programs.

Illinois state law has provided for school fee waivers for quite some time. However, a 1989 amendment made waivers available to all families whose incomes qualify their children for the free lunch program. Previously, waivers were required only for children who received AFDC benefits.

Some "school fees" required by regulation to be waived include: costs of textbooks (either purchase or rental) and other instructional materials, lab fees, equipment rental, physical education costs and graduation fees.

To receive a waiver of school fees, families should contact their school principal. Persons seeking information about school fee waivers or legal assistance regarding the availability of a waiver may contact Prairie State Legal Services, Inc.

NIU announces area graduates

PADS needs volunteers now

Early September and October is the time that volunteers are needed to start their work in the 16 temporary, rotating shelter sites for the homeless in Lake County. Lake County PADS (Public Action to Deliver Shelter), a program of Connection, is offering an Orientation program for all interested potential volunteers.

1991-92 is Lake County PADS fifth season of helping the homeless of Lake County and this year promises to be even more challenging than last season. Last season Lake County PADS offered 9,805 nights of shelter and served 28,402 meals at out homeless shelters. These numbers alone show the need for additional volunteers but we have added four new shelter sites to meet the increasing demand for shelter here in Lake County. As a volunteer, serving a fellow resident of Lake County, since 70 percent of our homeless guests come from Lake County, and 67 percent are homeless for the first time.

Those interested in volunteering are invited to attend an Orientation Session. The session lasts only three hours. In those three hours, the Orientation will open the door to helping those who will not go home tonight out of the rain or cold or homeless children who will not watch their Dad drive his car into the driveway tonight.

The dates for the Orientation are: Tuesday, Sept. 3 from 7 to 10 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 175 E. Illinois St., Lake Forest; Wednesday, Sept. 4 from 7 to 10 p.m. at Faith United Methodist Church, 414 McAree Rd., Waukegan; Sunday Sept. 8 from 1 to 4 p.m. at United Protestant Church, Park Ave. and N. Whitney, Grayslake.

Also, Monday, Sept. 9 from 7 to 10 p.m. at Chapel of the Cross Lutheran Church, 2031 Dugdale Rd., North Chicago; Thursday Sept. 12 from 7 to 10 p.m. at College of Lake County- Auditorium Area, 19351 W. Washington St. Grayslake; Sunday, Sept. 15 from 1 to 4 p.m. at Queen of Peace Catholic Church, 910 14th St., North Chicago.

A potential volunteer can attend any of the Orientation sessions without advanced registration. For more information regarding these sessions, contact the Lake County PADS office at (708)362-3381.

NIU students honored

Board Inc. There are more than 200 chapters of Mortar Board in the United States.

The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault's (LaCASA) Fourth Annual Golf Scramble was an overwhelming success in raising over $20,000 to support the critical services provided to survivors of sexual assault and sexual abuse in Lake County. Over one hundred and sixty golfers participated in the fund-raising event held at Mid-lane Country Club in Wadsworth.

Trust of Waukegan; second place, Gurnee National Bank; third place, Manpower Team No. 1; and fourth place, Newcastle Homes.

The grand raffle prize of two roundtrip tickets to London on American Airlines was won by Ralph Swank. A sports package which included four tickets to the Bears, Cubs, Black-hawks, and Bulls was won by Linda Fisher. The third prize, a year's membership at Lincolnshire Bath and Tennis Club, was won by Bob Pechil. Closest to the pin went to Bob Opeka. Longest Drive went to Kit Gorden for the men, and Lennie Eilenberger for women, and straightest drive went to Dan Ventura.
